Western Plans For Berlin Strategy Talks In Disarray

Ambassadorial Conferences Will Continue

Thompson Delays Return To Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for Western talks to develop a common negotiating position on Berlin proceeded in some disarray Monday with the outcome in doubt.

The State Department said the talks would be held in Washington and that Llewellyn Thompson, the U.S. ambassador to Russia, would delay his return to Moscow in order to sit in.

Thompson, who has been here a week for consultation, was originally scheduled to return to the Soviet capital in time to hear Premier Khrushchev's policy speech at the Communist party congress, opening Tuesday.

London Parley Called Off Press officer Lincoln White announced that the United States, Britain, France and West Germany have "decided to continue the Western consultations on Berlin" that have been held regularly at the ambassadorial level here, "with such augmentation of the ambassadorial group as is deemed desirable by each foreign office."

This is the replacement for a proposed high-level parley in London this week that was called off because of French objections.

The French said it was premature to work out a negotiating stand when the Kremlin has offered nothing the West can negotiate on.

In London the British Foreign Office announced that Deputy Undersecretary Sir Evelyn Shukburgh would go to Washington in a few days to join the talks.

U.S. officials awaited word from Bonn on whether the West German delegate who had been tapped to go to London, Deputy Foreign Minister Karl Carstens, will come to Washington. It was assumed the French counterpart, Jean Lalois, director of European affairs in the French Foreign Minister, will stay away.

The Americans and the British feel it is increasingly urgent to round out the common negotiating position to be taken by the Allies in the event of an East-West conference over Berlin.

The French contend that anxiousness to negotiate would be regarded by Moscow as weakness.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk wants a common Allied position on a number of possible negotiating issues on the German question, both in preparation for any East-West conference and to help in preference exploratory talks with the Soviets.

U.S. Anti-Sub Force To Patrol Russ 'Route'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Navy is sending a seven-ship anti-submarine force to an Atlantic area apparently along the route used by Soviet submarines in heading out toward ocean sea lanes and the American continent. The Navy announced Monday the group—a carrier and six destroyers—was being deployed to "the eastern Atlantic" within the next two weeks. However, it is understood the area is northwest of England.

The U.S. ships will join in an anti-submarine warfare exercise in November and then remain for an indefinite period, the Navy said.

Boy, 5, Killed By Car

CENTREVILLE, Md. (AP) — James Wayne Martin, 5, died Monday after he was struck by a car in front of his home here. State Police said the victim apparently darted in front of an auto driven by Mrs. Jane Powell Coppage, of Price. Troopers said a high hedge nearby probably obscured the driver's vision.

Islanders Who Fled Volcano Reach Mainland

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The refugee islanders of Tristan da Cunha, linked by generations of intermarriage and 19th century customs, got a glimpse of the modern world on arrival Monday aboard a Dutch liner. They were impressed, but prefer their own life.

"We are really one big family," said one of the 260 forced from their little southern Atlantic homeland by volcanic eruptions. "I hope nobody will ever part us. We must stay together whatever happens."

There are only seven surnames among the group. Many trace their line directly to Scottish Cpl. William Glass, who stayed behind with his wife and two children and kept the British flag flying after a British garrison pulled out of the 42-square-mile island about 140 years ago. Shipwrecked sailors helped to augment the population.

Only about a dozen of the refugees had ever left the island before a long-dormant volcano erupted last Monday and forced them to flee. The Dutch liner Tjisadane picked them up from neighboring Nightingale Island.

Men, women and children gazed wide-eyed at the tall white buildings along the shore of Cape Town. John Lavarelle, 64, a great-grandson of Glass, said he felt the group would never again see their "loneliest island in the world." As to the future, he said, they will wait and see what the British Colonial Office proposes. They hope that an island similar to their own will be offered them as a home so they can resume their life of fishing and farming.

Nigeria Moves To Calm Storm Over Peace Corps

By ROBERT N. LINDSAY LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—The Nigerian government tried Monday night to calm down African students demanding removal of the 37 U.S. Peace Corps volunteers in Nigeria. The Americans themselves were reported getting cool treatment generally.

The government said in a statement that the "friendly and cordial relationship between Nigeria and the United States must not be jeopardized or affected by the foolish writings of one adolescent school girl."

But in an apparent move to placate the students, it added that Nigerians "can be assured that if there are any persons in Nigeria holding views similar to those expressed by this young girl, our federal minister of internal af-

Man Ends Sixth Year In Coma

PRICHARD, Ala. (AP)—Richard L. Horens, 29, ended his 6th year of unconsciousness Monday. Havens has been in a coma with his hands clenched tightly at his side since the predawn hours of Oct. 16, 1955, when the car he was driving went out of control and overturned in a ditch. A companion was killed.

Doctors said he received irreversible brain damage. They have no hope of any recovery to consciousness.

Havens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Havens, have cared for him at their home since 2½ months after the accident. His father is a construction worker.

He is fed intravenously. He cannot move, speak, hear or see.

New Sub Makes Polaris Debut

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The Navy used 15 fathoms of mid-Atlantic ocean water as a cloak of secrecy Monday for the missile-firing debut of its newest and largest Polaris submarine.

Unheralded and unannounced, the nuclear-powered U.S. Ethan Allen cruised into a remote stretch of the Atlantic and fired its first Polaris from the ocean's depths at 10:54 a.m. EDT.

The 6,000-ton Ethan Allen is America's sixth Polaris sub, but the first especially built to carry a newer, more powerful model of the Polaris that can bring cities more than 1,700 miles away within range of its destructive ability.

The sub left the Cape Canaveral area Sunday and sped to a watery launching spot near Grand Bahama Island, about 200 miles southeast of this spaceport.

Auto Workers Turn Attention To Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—With the Ford Motor Co. strike virtually settled, Chrysler Corp.'s turn on the auto labor merry-go-round comes up Tuesday.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers union met all afternoon Monday with Norman Matthews, head of the UAW's Chrysler Department.

Reuther asked the company for a 2 p.m. meeting Tuesday. This will mark the start of intensive bargaining there. The UAW and Chrysler have been negotiating mostly on the subcommittee level since June 30 while the UAW reached agreements with General Motors Corp., Ford and American Motors Corp.

The UAW represents 53,000 Chrysler production workers and 7,000 salaried workers.

Matthews and Reuther and their assistants reportedly discussed bargaining strategy at the meeting at Reuther's suburban home.

Ford got back into production at half of its 16 assembly plants and hoped to restore full production by midweek.

An estimated 3,300 passenger cars and 600 trucks rolled off assembly lines.

Some 55,000 of Ford's 120,000 hourly employees went back to work after the United Auto Workers Union called off a 13-day strike at all but two of the company's 85 plants.

The company said it expected 99,000 production workers would be back on the job Tuesday and 106,000 by Wednesday.

The UAW executive board Sunday authorized two local unions to stay on strike pending settlements with plant managements on working conditions. They are Local 900 at the Wayne, Mich., assembly plant and Local 420 at the Walton Hills stamping plant near Cleveland, Ohio.

Extended shutdowns at these plants could seriously cripple Ford's production.

The company and the union ran into difficulty in attempting to end a strike at the Hazelwood assembly plant near St. Louis, Mo. About 1,000 members of Local 325 have been on strike since July 26 in a dispute over working conditions.

Dixie Rail Terminals Integrated

End To Race Ban Ordered By Three Major Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Monday night three major railroads have ordered racial desegregation of all their facilities in the South.

The railroads are the Illinois Central, Southern, and Louisville & Nashville.

A statement from Kennedy confirmed a news conference announcement by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Negro leader from Atlanta who held conferences with both President Kennedy and the attorney general.

Robert Kennedy also announced that two Southern airports—at Columbus, Ga., and Raleigh-Durham, N.C.—have voluntarily desegregated their terminals.

Executive Order Urged

King said he had been very sympathetically received at the White House, where he proposed that the President issue an executive order declaring all segregation in the nation unconstitutional under the 14th amendment. King said such an order would be sort of a second emancipation proclamation.

The attorney general said the three railroads deserve great credit for instructing their employees to desegregate Southern terminals.

"Their action represents more than voluntary compliance with the law," said Kennedy. "It also represents acceptance of a great responsibility to the nation."

The attorney general said Justice Department officials had held several meetings with the railroad operators to work out the voluntary desegregation plan.

10 States Involved

At the moment King was announcing the step to White House reporters, Justice Department officials were preparing a statement detailing the plan.

The statement was to have been issued Tuesday after confirmation that the plan had gone into effect in 10 Southern states—Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia.

King said the action involving the railroad terminals would apply to waiting rooms, restaurants, eating accommodations and all other facilities.

Taylor Briefed On S. Viet Nam

HONOLULU (UPI)—President Kennedy's special military advisor, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, heard a grim report Monday of new Communist gains in Southeast Asia from America's top military man in the Pacific.

Taylor conferred here with Adm. Harry D. Felt, U.S. commander in chief in the Pacific, who had just returned from a survey of the critical area where the Reds are cracking out new advances in jungle warfare.

Aides said Felt gave Taylor specific details of Communist successes in Viet Nam in recent weeks.

Taylor leaves Monday for Saigon where he will try to determine what sort of "crash" program the United States can devise to halt the Communist advance against the embattled South Viet Nam government.

Peru Calls For OAS Action Against Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peru denounced the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba Monday night as a Communist threat to all the hemisphere and asked the Organization of American States (OAS) to do something about it.

Not a voice except Cuba's was raised against Peru's demand, but the OAS council voted to delay action for one week to allow time for consultation with home governments.

Cuba's OAS ambassador, Carlos Lechuga, charged Peru's "government of colonial aristocracy and oppression" presented the denunciation of Cuba on orders of the United States.

Anti-Castro exiles sought vainly to enter the OAS meeting hall to boo the Cuban. Guards kept them out.

Kennedy Meets With Visiting Finnish Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy conferred Monday with President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, a country that has maintained strong Western ties despite the influence of its powerful neighbor, the Soviet Union.

Kekkonen and his wife arrived for a two-day visit. Kennedy praised Finland for its "determination to maintain freedom and integrity."

The first day of the visit included an official welcome at Andrews Air Force Base, luncheon at the White House, the formal conference between Kennedy and Kekkonen, a visit to the Finnish Embassy and a state dinner given by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Kennedy flew back from a weekend on Cape Cod only 10 minutes before the arrival of the 61-year-old Finnish president. In his off-the-cuff welcoming speech, Kennedy praised Finns for "such qualities as courage, fortitude and perseverance," and he added that these qualities had been demonstrated by Finns who have migrated to this country.

Kekkonen said he hoped his visit would "strengthen the good and friendly relations which have always existed between our two countries."

Americans of Finnish descent are "a living bond between our two peoples," Kekkonen said.

The 53 guests at the White House luncheon included Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the U.S. Olympic Association. Kekkonen long has had an interest in the Olympics and other sports and once was high jump champion of Finland. Kekkonen still likes such outdoor sports as hiking and skiing.

He lost a bag of dimes while en route from a vending machine concern to a bank. The treasure scooped up by the boys totaled $795.30.

It was taken to the police, where the two boys who had found it proudly posed for news pictures, the heroes of a real-life drama that started out with schoolyard monotony.

Russia Fires Giant Rocket 7,500 Miles

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has fired a multi-stage rocket more than 7,500 miles into the central Pacific, the official Tass news agency said Monday. ### Spectacular Space Age Doubleheader Scheduled

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautical and Space Administration announced Monday it will attempt within a few days to launch a Ranger 2 spacecraft on a million-mile roundtrip journey into space, setting up a possible spectacular rocket doubleheader late this week.

Earlier, NASA reported the first launching of the Saturn super-booster is slated for the same time period. This will be a brief flight test of the 1.3-million-pound thrust first stage only.

An Atlas-Agena rocket is being readied to hurl the 675-pound Ranger 2 into space in a test of techniques for sending instrument packages to the moon and other planets. Ranger 3 is scheduled to land an instrument payload on the moon early next year.

It Was Just Routine Day And Then ...

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—Just another schoolday — that's the way Monday started for two young boys. They strolled along, carrying their books. Just more of the old routine, without adventure, except in the imagination.

They headed toward a spot on lower East River Drive, where a car was to pick them up to take them to Yeshiva University High School. It was the usual procedure for David Heimowitz, 15, and Marvin Sussman, 14.

Then, all of a sudden, there it was, just like in A' Baba's treasure cave. Heaped there beside the street were hundreds and hundreds of sparkling silver coins.

They bent down there near a traffic island, stunned for a moment. Then, trading excited words, began gathering it up, handfuls upon handfuls of dimes.

Traffic sped past them, but the boys were lost in their concentration.

They emptied a book satchel of its books, and began pouring in the jingling coins. A crowd began gathering, open-jawed in surprise.

A passing motorist, with a fleet-ing version of the scene, stopped to call police about some "disorderly boys." Actually, the boys' find had crowned a police effort to locate some missing coins.

Police said that a driver for Brink's Inc., had reported losing a bag of dimes while en route from a vending machine concern to a bank. The treasure scooped up by the boys totaled $795.30.

It was taken to the police, where the two boys who had found it proudly posed for news pictures, the heroes of a real-life drama that started out with schoolyard monotony.

Search For Missing Bomber Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — A bobbing, yellow object was spotted Monday during the search of the North Atlantic for a B52G jet bomber with eight men aboard. It appeared at first to be a raft, but turned out to be a Navy oceanographic device.

The Coast Guard said the air and sea search would be resumed Tuesday—for the third day—in an effort to learn the fate of the Air Force straggler from operation Sky Shield II. The plane has been missing since Saturday evening.

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Secrecy veiled the tabulation of returns Monday night from a general election intended to produce a civilian government to succeed Turkey's military junta.

Polling officials abruptly suspended public announcement of the count when preliminary returns showed the two major parties—the moderate People's party of former President Ismet Inonu and the rightist Justice party of Gen. Ragip Gumuspa-la—running almost neck and neck for control of parliament.

Tense World Awaits Views On Berlin, UN

Communist Chiefs Gather In Moscow For 22nd Congress

MOSCOW (UPI)—The 22nd congress of the Communist Party meets Tuesday in the modernistic glass and marble Kremlin Palace of Congresses to hear a marathon speech by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that could shape the cold war for years to come.

An anxious world awaited his views on Berlin and Germany, on Laos, the United Nations, nuclear testing and disarmament and the thousand and one issues that have plunged the world into its worst East-West crisis since the end of World War II.

It was considered almost certain Khrushchev would review what the Communist Party considers its "historic mission"—the prevention of thermonuclear war and the promotion of peaceful co-existence. Accordingly, Khrushchev was expected to repeat Soviet readiness for a peaceful Berlin settlement and improved East-West relations.

In a separate report to the 4-354 delegates representing the leaders of world communism, Khrushchev later this week will unfold his vision of the "golden age of the Communist future" and his plans to turn Russia into a utopia within 20 years.

Red "Summit" Conference

East-West negotiations aimed at easing the Berlin crises were in a state of suspended animation waiting for his speech which is expected to last from six to eight hours and give the Soviet position on everything from nuclear warfare to consumer goods.

The party congress is the ultimate constitutional authority for the Communist world and has brought to Moscow such Communists as Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China, Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Janos Kadar of Hungary and Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam.

Those Communist leaders are expected to hold a summit conference of their own during or just after the congress itself. That meeting may be of importance because the presence of Chou gave indication a reported split between Peiping and Moscow had been healed.

One-Year Delay

The congress was to have met last year but the meeting was postponed until this year to take up a five-point agenda.

They were Khrushchev's long report on the state of the Soviet Union and the party since the 21st congress; a report by the Central Inspection Commission on internal party affairs; Khrushchev's presentation of the new party program, the first since V. I. Lenin's in 1919; Secretary Frol Kozlov's introduction of revised party rules; and the election of Communist leaders.

The unofficial tentative schedule calls for the congress to open at 3 a.m. EDT in the Palace of Congresses to hear Khrushchev's welcoming remarks and to elect a presidium, the collective chairman who alternate as chairmen.

Then comes adoption of the five-point agenda followed by Khrushchev's speech. The speech is expected to start about 5 a.m. EDT and is expected to end after 11 a.m. EDT.

Not a voice except Cuba's was raised against Peru's demand, but the OAS council voted to delay action for one week to allow time for consultation with home governments.

Cuba's OAS ambassador, Carlos Lechuga, charged Peru's "government of colonial aristocracy and oppression" presented the denunciation of Cuba on orders of the United States.

Anti-Castro exiles sought vainly to enter the OAS meeting hall to boo the Cuban. Guards kept them out.

Kennedy Meets With Visiting Finnish Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy conferred Monday with President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, a country that has maintained strong Western ties despite the influence of its powerful neighbor, the Soviet Union.

Kekkonen and his wife arrived for a two-day visit.

Kennedy praised Finland for its "determination to maintain freedom and integrity."

The first day of the visit included an official welcome at Andrews Air Force Base, luncheon at the White House, the formal conference between Kennedy and Kekkonen, a visit to the Finnish Embassy and a state dinner given by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Kennedy flew back from a weekend on Cape Cod only 10 minutes before the arrival of the balding, 61-year-old Finnish president. In his off-the-cuff welcome speech, Kennedy praised Finns for "such qualities as courage, fortitude and perseverance," and he added that these qualities had been demonstrated by Finns who have migrated to this country.

Kekkonen said he hoped his visit would "strengthen the good and friendly relations which have always existed between our two countries."

Americans of Finnish descent are "a living bond between our two peoples," Kekkonen said.

The 53 guests at the White House luncheon included Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the U.S. Olympic Association. Kekkonen long has had an interest in the Olympics and other sports and once was high jump champion of Finland. Kekkonen still likes such outdoor sports as hiking and skiing.

Aides said Felt gave Taylor specific details of Communist successes in Viet Nam in recent weeks.

Taylor leaves Monday for Saigon where he will try to determine what sort of "crash" program the United States can devise to halt the Communist advance against the embattled South Viet Nam government.

Russia Fires Giant Rocket 7,500 Miles

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has fired a multi-stage rocket more than 7,500 miles into the central Pacific, the official Tass news agency said Monday.

Tass said the rocket, the sixth in the current series of Russian tests in the central Pacific, was fired Sunday from an undisclosed site in Russia.

Spectacular Space Age Doubleheader Scheduled

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautical and Space Administration announced Monday it will attempt within a few days to launch a Ranger 2 spacecraft on a million-mile roundtrip journey into space, setting up a possible spectacular rocket doubleheader late this week.

Earlier, NASA reported the first launching of the Saturn super-boosters is slated for the same time period. This will be a brief flight test of the 1.3-million-pound thrust first stage only.

An Atlas-Agena rocket is being readied to hurl the 675-pound Ranger 2 into space in a test of techniques for sending instrument packages to the moon and other planets. Ranger 3 is scheduled to land an instrument payload on the moon early next year.

It Was Just Routine Day And Then ...

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—Just another schoolday — that's the way Monday started for two young boys. They strolled along, carrying their books. Just more of the old routine, without adventure, except in the imagination.

They headed toward a spot on lower East River Drive, where a car was to pick them up to take them to Yeshiva University High School. It was the usual procedure for David Heimowitz, 15, and Marvin Sussman, 14.

Then, all of a sudden, there it was, just like in A' Baba's treasure cave. Heaped there beside the street were hundreds and hundreds of sparkling silver coins.

They bent down there near a traffic island, stunned for a moment. Then, trading excited words, began gathering it up, handfuls upon handfuls of dimes.

Traffic sped past them, but the boys were lost in their concentration.

They emptied a book satchel of its books, and began pouring in the jingling coins. A crowd began gathering, open-jawed in surprise.

A passing motorist, with a fleeting version of the scene, stopped to call police about some "disorderly boys." Actually, the boys find had crowned a police effort to locate some missing coins.

Police said that a driver for Brink's Inc., had reported losing a bag of dimes while en route from a vending machine concern to a bank. The treasure scooped up by the boys totaled $795.30.

It was taken to the police, where the two boys who had found it proudly posed for news pictures, the heroes of a real-life drama that started out with schoolday monotony.

Tense World Awaits Views On Berlin, UN

Communist Chiefs Gather In Moscow For 22nd Congress

MOSCOW (UPI)—The 22nd congress of the Communist Party meets Tuesday in the modernistic glass and marble Kremlin Palace of Congresses to hear a marathon speech by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that could shape the cold war for years to come.

An anxious world awaited his views on Berlin and Germany, on Laos, the United Nations, nuclear testing and disarmament and the thousand and one issues that have plunged the world into its worst East-West crisis since the end of World War II.

It was considered almost certain Khrushchev would review what the Communist Party considers its "historic mission"—the prevention of thermonuclear war and the promotion of peaceful co-existence. Accordingly, Khrushchev was expected to repeat Soviet readiness for a peaceful Berlin settlement and improved East-West relations.

In a separate report to the 4,354 delegates representing the leaders of world communism, Khrushchev later this week will unfold his vision of the "golden age of the Communist future" and his plans to turn Russia into a utopia within 20 years.

Red "Summit" Conference

East-West negotiations aimed at easing the Berlin crises were in a state of suspended animation waiting for his speech which is expected to last from six to eight hours and give the Soviet position on everything from nuclear warfare to consumer goods.

The party congress is the ultimate constitutional authority for the Communist world and has brought to Moscow such Communists as Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China, Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Janos Kadar of Hungary and Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam.

Those Communist leaders are expected to hold a summit conference of their own during or just after the congress itself. That meeting may be of importance because the presence of Chou gave indication a reported split between Peking and Moscow had been healed.

One-Year Delay

The congress was to have met last year but the meeting was postponed until this year to take up a five-point agenda.

They were Khrushchev's long report on the state of the Soviet Union and the party since the 21st congress; a report by the Central Inspection Commission on internal party affairs; Khrushchev's presentation of the new party program, the first since V. I. Lenin's in 1919; Secretary Frol Kozlov's introduction of revised party rules; and the election of Communist leaders.

The unofficial tentative schedule calls for the congress to open at 3 a.m. EDT in the Palace of Congresses to hear Khrushchev's welcoming remarks and to elect a presidium, the collective chairman who alternates as chairman.

Then comes adoption of the five-point agenda followed by Khrushchev's speech. The speech is expected to start about 5 a.m. EDT and is expected to end after 11 a.m. EDT.

Search For Missing Bomber Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — A hobbing, yellow object was spotted Monday during the search of the North Atlantic for a B52G jet bomber with eight men aboard. It appeared at first to be a raft, but turned out to be a Navy oceanographic device.

The Coast Guard said the air and sea search would be resumed Tuesday—for the third day—in an effort to learn the fate of the Air Force straggler from operation Sky Shield II. The plane has been missing since Saturday evening.

Secrecy Veils Turkish Election Tabulation

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Secrecy veiled the tabulation of returns Monday night from a general election intended to produce a civilian government to succeed Turkey's military junta.

Polling officials abruptly suspended public announcement of the count when preliminary returns showed the two major parties—the moderate People's party of former President Ismet Inonu and the rightist Justice party of Gen. Ragip Gurnuspa—running almost neck and neck for control of parliament.

High Court Rebuffs Louisiana Attempt To Block Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court for the sixth time in nearly two years has knocked down attempts by Louisiana to block racial integration of its public schools.

The decision Monday let stand a lower court ruling which declared unconstitutional two laws that permit criminal prosecution by the state of people who help or encourage the sending of children to integrated schools.

The high tribunal acted without hearing arguments. It merely issued a one-sentence unsigned ruling—apparently unanimous—upholding a decision handed down by a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans last May 4.

This was the second opinion day of the court's new term and the string of orders issued dealt with cases primarily of local interest. In the Louisiana case, the court rejected a contention by Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion of Louisiana that the federal government had no business getting into the argument over the constitutionality of the two laws. Gremillion said the issues involved were strictly between citizens of Louisiana and the state.

The May 4 decision struck at a series of laws passed by the Louisiana Legislature in an attempt to block school integration in New Orleans. That decision said all such state statutes are unconstitutional, particularly two acts passed by an extraordinary session of the legislature this year.

One law is entitled: "Bribery of parents of school children." It would punish anyone who gives or any parent who accepts "anything of apparent or prospective value" as an inducement for sending a child to an integrated school.

The other law is entitled: "Intimidation and interference in the operation of the schools." It condemns what the court calls "strange language—the offering to do or doing any act" to a child or parent, teacher or other school employee who may influence that person "to do or perform any act of violation of any law of this state."

Both laws grant immunity from prosecution and promise a monetary reward to informers.

Nation's Industrial Output Takes Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial output dropped a full point in September to 112 per cent of the 1957 average, mostly because of auto strikes and hurricane Carla, the Federal Reserve Board announced Monday.

This was the first drop in the index since February.

The board's summary of business conditions showed that the recovery was advancing slowly—if at all—in several important segments of industry.

FBI Arrests Woman Bad Check Artist

BALTIMORE (AP) — FBI agents announced Monday the arrest of Mrs. Mary K. Alvarez, 34, charged with passing 80 to 85 bad checks valued at $4,500 during the past 2½ months at military posts from coast to coast.

Edward J. Powers, special agent in charge of the Baltimore office, said Mrs. Alvarez surrendered to agents in his office Sunday.

A special warrant for her arrest had been issued at San Diego, Calif. Sept. 26. It charged she had passed bad checks on a government reservation in California.

Complaints have been received by the FBI concerning numerous bad checks bearing the signature Mary K. Alvarez passed at military reservations in various parts of country, Powers said.

The checks were drawn on banks in Virginia, Texas, New York and Arizona, he said. Identification used to cash the checks was a uniformed services ID and privilege card issued in the name Mary K. Alvarez.

Fourteen bogus checks with a value of $570 were passed at military installations in Maryland including Aberdeen Proving Ground, U.S. Army Chemical Center, U.S. Naval Training Center at Bainbridge, Indian Head Naval Propellant Plant, Patuxent Naval Air Station, Ft. Meade, Ft. Ritchie, and Ft. Holabird.

Camel Driver Rides Range

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Bashir Ahmad, who drives a camel cart in Karachi, Pakistan, climbed into a western saddle on a beautiful Palomino named Silver at Vice President Lyndon Johnson's ranch Monday.

"This is just like sitting on a davenport," said Bashir, who is 48. "You don't feel the horse at all. You just feel leather."

Bashir sat erect in the saddle. His ankles dangled a foot above the stirrup. His interpreter, Sahib Khan of Pakistan, explained that Bashir had ridden horses before but always without a saddle or bridle. "He is a first class horse," Bashir said and a broad grin shown under his wide, black mustache. Johnson, who helped boost Bashir into the saddle, asked if he would like to trade his camel for a horse.

"That is a fair trade," Bashir replied, still grinning.

Johnson then mounted another horse and the two rode briefly along the banks of the Pedernales River looking at irrigated pasture lands and some of the purebred bulls on the vice president's LBJ ranch, 65 miles west of Austin.

Johnson met Bashir during a visit to Karachi earlier this year. Johnson singled him out of a crowd to shake hands and casually invited Bashir to visit the United States. American businessmen made the trip possible under the people-to-people program.

Viet Nam Official's Suicide Reported

SAIGON (AP) — Press reports said Monday there are unconfirmed reports South Viet Nam's kidnapped liaison man to the International Control Commission committed suicide while being taken north by Communist guerrillas.

Col. Hoang Thuy Nam was seized Oct. 1 by guerrillas near his farm 12 miles north of Saigon. Military spokesmen said they had no confirmation of the reports, which said the colonel either jumped or was thrown into a river.

Tawes Praised For Role In Rt. 40 Anti-Bias Drive

BALTIMORE (AP) — The chairman of the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations endorsed Monday the quiet part Gov. Tawes is taking in efforts to end segregation in restaurants on Route 40.

"A program of moral suasion is being conducted," Rogers stated, and it "has received strong yet subdued participation by the governor of Maryland."

Rogers declared that "significant progress has been made" in seeking a voluntary end to discrimination against Negroes in the restaurants on the 50-mile strip of highway northeast of Baltimore.

"Gov. Tawes' primary aim is to solve a conflict which is distressing to all Marylanders," Rogers stated, "not merely to align himself with the angels for political advantage.

"I can assure you that his method is working. His determination to solve this problem quietly has encountered strong reaction from both proponents and opponents of segregation in restaurants and hotels along U.S. 40.

"His courage in applying his energies to the solution of the problem, rather than to promote a political advantage, is to be admired."

The statement by Rogers was distributed to news media for use Monday before he left on private business in Minneapolis.

Last week, after a conference with the governor, Rogers said his commission would see that a bill requiring all places of public accommodation in Maryland to serve everyone would be introduced in the 1962 General Assembly if it wasn't recommended by the Legislative Council.

Gov. Tawes had earlier refused to call a special session to consider passage of such a bill.

Bonn Asks More Powerful Arms For Berlin Police

BERLIN (AP) — The Western Allies are considering a German demand for more powerful weapons for West Berlin police guarding the tense 100 miles of border around West Berlin, authoritative sources said Monday night.

The senator responsible for West Berlin police, Joachim Lipschitz, has asked for the issue of American-made automatic rifles for border police at specially dangerous spots, the informants said.

This followed a series of serious incidents in which East German border police pumped bullets into Western territory trying to stop escaping refugees.

So far the West Berlin police have been armed only with pistols and tear gas grenades. The Red police have Soviet-made submachineguns, heavy machineguns mounted on armored vehicles and tear gas grenades.

An Allied spokesman said, "The matter of police weapons is currently under review by Allied authorities."

Hume Says Idle Pay Bill 'Rigged'

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Hume, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Maryland, said Monday an unemployment compensation bill signed by Gov. Tawes contains "more holes than a piece of Swiss cheese."

Hume, in a speech prepared for a meeting of the District of Columbia Central Labor Council, said:

"The unemployment compensation bill passed by the State assembly and signed by Gov. Tawes is a rigged bill designed not to achieve the worthy purpose of helping unemployed workers survive until they can be gainfully employed through a revived economy, but to get a few special interests protected for years to come."

"(The bill), as passed and signed, has more holes than a piece of Swiss cheese, and the effort of organized labor in Maryland to defeat this legislative atrocity by a referendum of the voters deserves the support of right thinking people."

The measure will be voted on in the 1962 general election.

New Hearing On Drugs Stirs Old Wrangle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Senate hearing on drugs opened Monday on the same note of disagreement that ran through an earlier inquiry. Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., renewed his charge that prices were too high and Republicans disputed him.

The wrangle was renewed when Kefauver, as chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, gave his review of the first hearing in these words: "By any test and under any standard, prices and profits in the ethical drug industry are excessive and unreasonable."

This brought prompt reaction from two Republicans, Sens. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Roman R. Hruska of Nebraska. Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said Kefauver's remark was "very unfortunate." He said it gave the impression that the statement was a subcommittee conclusion rather than one senator's views.

Hruska expressed confidence that when the subcommittee drafted its conclusions, it would be found that drug prices and profits were not too high "by any test and under any standard."

The current hearing — to run through Wednesday — is on the controversial patent provisions of a bill by Kefauver to regulate the drug industry.

Kennedy, Nehru May Meet At Hyannis Port

WASHINGTON (AP) — The winter season's first whooping crane has arrived at the Texas Gulf Coast bird sanctuary where they spend the winter, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service announced Monday.

Word that a lone whooping crane was seen was received from Manager Huyson J. Johnson of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge.

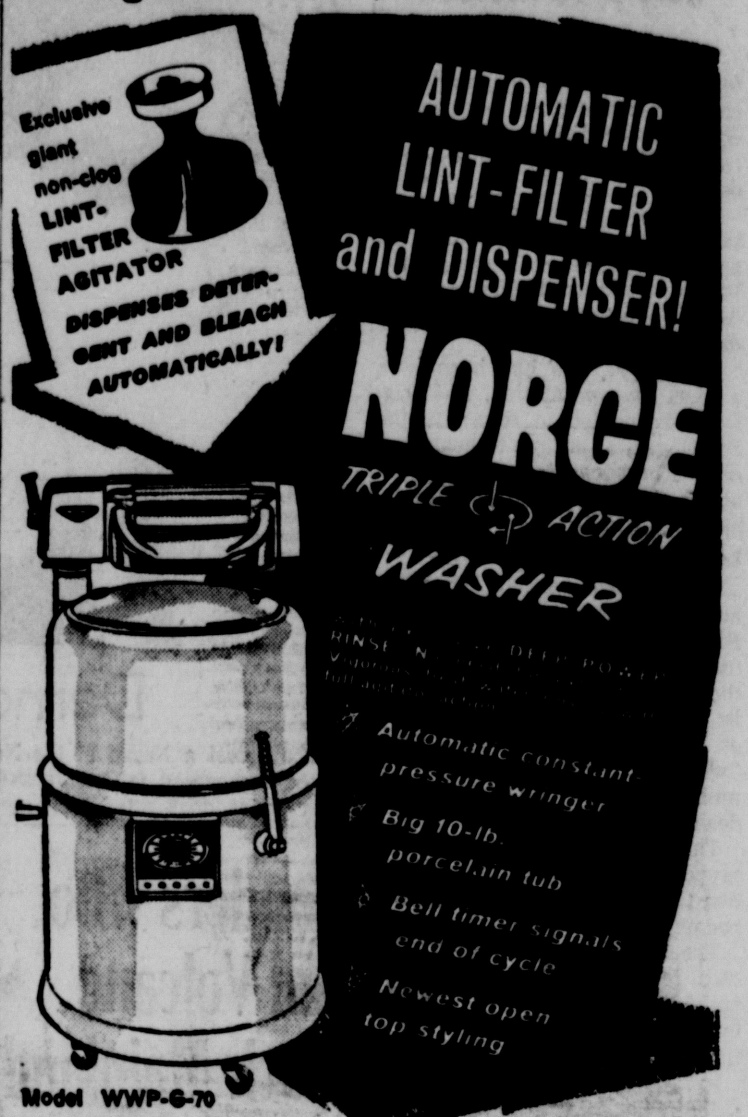

On Sept. 18 officials of the Canadian Wildlife Service reported that 26 whoopers were counted during a helicopter flight in the Sassi River area of Canada's Northwest territories.

In Ottawa, the Northern Affairs Department said four young whooping cranes are believed flying southward toward the Texas wintering grounds.

Eleven adults and three young were sighted Aug. 25 and another youngster was spotted subsequently. Thirty-six of the nearly extinct birds came north in the spring.

Every five minutes the little boy would call and ask the same question . . . "Please, Operator, what time is it?"

But something about the little boy's voice told Operator Lola Caldwell that this was no childish prank. Finally, she asked him to call his mother to the phone.

State Prison Probers, Board Meet Saturday

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The State Board of Correction will meet in Hagerstown Saturday with members of a grand jury critical of Maryland's prison administration.

The office of Gov. Tawes announced Monday that the board will invite the jury foreman, his assistant and any other members to discuss their report.

The governor's office said that James W. Curran, state prison superintendent, will not be present.

The jury report, among other things, stated that Curran had shown "complete complacency regarding corrective measures" at the Reformatory for Males in Breathesville.

The jury also charged that members of the State Board of Correction had exercised political interference in hiring personnel at the reformatory.

The jurors urged Gov. Tawes to appoint a commission of experts to study the state's prison system.

The governor conferred with G. C. A. Anderson, board chairman, on the report last week.

The grand jury undertook a study of the reformatory upon instruction of the Washington County Circuit Court. It called 29 witnesses during its month-long probe.

Its report expressed shock "that the superintendent of prisons had issued specific instructions to reformatory personnel not to make complaints to the grand juries visiting the institution."

New Hearing On Drugs Stirs Old Wrangle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Senate hearing on drugs opened Monday on the same note of disagreement that ran through an earlier inquiry. Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., renewed his charge that prices were too high and Republicans disputed him.

The wrangle was renewed when Kefauver, as chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, gave his review of the first hearing in these words: "By any test and under any standard, prices and profits in the ethical drug industry are excessive and unreasonable."

This brought prompt reaction from two Republicans, Sens. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Roman R. Hruska of Nebraska.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said Kefauver's remark was "very unfortunate." He said it gave the impression that the statement was a subcommittee conclusion rather than one senator's views.

Hruska expressed confidence that when the subcommittee drafted its conclusions, it would be found that drug prices and profits were not too high "by any test and under any standard."

The current hearing — to run through Wednesday — is on the controversial patent provisions of a bill by Kefauver to regulate the drug industry.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Don't sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

"PLEASE, OPERATOR, WHAT TIME IS IT?"

Every five minutes the little boy would call and ask the same question . . . "Please, Operator, what time is it?"

But something about the little boy's voice told Operator Lola Caldwell that this was no childish prank. Finally, she asked him to call his mother to the phone.

"She can't come to the telephone," he said. "My little sister swallowed a button this morning, and my mother had to take her to the hospital. And she told me not to dare leave the house till twenty after eight. I looked and looked, and honest, Operator, I don't see any twenty on that clock. And I'm afraid I'll miss my school bus."

"Don't worry, young man," said Mrs. Caldwell. "I'll call you when it's time to leave." At 8:20 she rang and sent the little boy off to meet his bus.

To Lola Caldwell, this was all part of a day's work. Another example of the personal interest telephone people take in their customers. This instinctive desire to help is one of the things that make your telephone service so valuable.

How to invest wisely in stocks and bonds

It's getting hard to find anyone these days who hasn't heard about the advantages of owning stocks and bonds. What's not so widely known is how to go about investing wisely. Here are four suggestions.

FIRST: Make use of a broker whose full-time job is helping people choose securities sensibly. You'll find him in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Every Registered Representative there has met the Exchange's requirements for investment knowledge. From the variety of securities available he can help you select the kind he thinks best fits your needs and today's conditions.

SECOND: An important rule of wise investors is to get facts about a company—never invest on tips or rumors. They know that many a telephone is ringing with calls from high-pressure salesmen urging unwary people to buy risky or worthless stock. They know that prices of both stocks and bonds vary almost every day, some companies may fail to make a profit, may not pay dividends or interest. So the wise investor begins with money not needed for living expenses or emergencies.

THIRD: Which is most important to you—income, growth or safety of principal? Some companies pay relatively high dividends. Some may reinvest a large part of their earnings in the business and pay smaller dividends or none at all, but may have better prospects for growth. Bonds, on the other hand, usually offer greater stability of income and safety of principal.

FOURTH: A good way to start is to read our useful guide to common stock investing, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." This valuable booklet gives you the records of some 470 stocks that have paid a cash dividend every year for 25 years or more. It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can acquire stock in famous companies with as little as $40 every three months, or as much as $1,000 a month. ## Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon may also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONOID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONOID's unequalled rebulking action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONOID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONOID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONOID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

City Bridge Teams Win In Mason-Dixon Event

Cumberland players finished first in four of the events of the Mason-Dixon championship tournament held over the weekend at the Cumberland Country Club.

The tournament, the eleventh annual to be sponsored by the Western Maryland Bridge Association, again attracted players from the major eastern cities, adding further laurels to the quality of play in this area.

Mrs. Joseph Feldstein, this city, teamed with Theodore Leahy of Adelphi, Md., to win the mixed pairs Sunday, the concluding event of the tourney.

The runnersup in this event were Mr. and Mrs. George F. Bortor, also of this city.

How to invest wisely in stocks and bonds

It's getting hard to find anyone these days who hasn't heard about the advantages of owning stocks and bonds. What's not so widely known is how to go about investing wisely. Here are four suggestions.

FIRST: Make use of a broker whose full-time job is helping people choose securities sensibly. You'll find him in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Every Registered Representative there has met the Exchange's requirements for investment knowledge. From the variety of securities available he can help you select the kind he thinks best fits your needs and today's conditions.

SECOND: An important rule of wise investors is to get facts about a company—never invest on tips or rumors. They know that many a telephone is ringing with calls from high-pressure salesmen urging unwary people to buy risky or worthless stock. They know that prices of both stocks and bonds vary almost every day, some companies may fail to make a profit, may not pay dividends or interest. So the wise investor begins with money not needed for living expenses or emergencies.

THIRD: Which is most important to you—income, growth or safety of principal? Some companies pay relatively high dividends. Some may reinvest a large part of their earnings in the business and pay smaller dividends or none at all, but may have better prospects for growth. Bonds, on the other hand, usually offer greater stability of income and safety of principal.

FOURTH: A good way to start is to read our useful guide to common stock investing, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." This valuable booklet gives you the records of some 470 stocks that have paid a cash dividend every year for 25 years or more. It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can acquire stock in famous companies with as little as $40 every three months, or as much as $1,000 a month. Send the coupon now and we'll mail you a copy free.

hand. East's jack forced declarer's king and a diamond was led toward dummy. The jack won the trick but, when East showed out, the bubble had burst, for two more leads were needed toward the diamond honors, and declarer had but one entry left.

Declarer's handling of the opening lead was dictated by impulse rather than reason. A fourth club trick was the least of declarer's concern—and, in point of fact, was absolutely immaterial. The ten of clubs could at best produce a mythical 13th trick, since the ace of diamonds must be given up in any event.

Declarer had to protect himself against only one holding, that is, all four diamonds in the West hand. If East had all four, declarer's cause would be lost. The important consideration is that declarer must learn of the diamond distribution before releasing any entries to his own hand. So he should win with the ace of clubs in dummy and lead the king of diamonds. West will win with the ace of East discards. Declarer can enter his hand with the king of clubs to lead a diamond. West will play the nine and North the jack. The South hand is reentered with the king of spades and on another diamond lead West's ten is trapped and dummy is high.

(Copyright 1961: The Chicago Tribune)

Today, we have another instance of the too hasty play to trick one by declarer. The present case was compounded by an unthinking sense of false economy that resulted in the loss of a vulnerable slam.

The final contract was reasonable and North's raise to six no trump was quite sound holding a runnable six card suit and all the side controls.

West opened the seven of clubs, and in order to insure the winning of four tricks in the suit declarer permitted it to run to his hand. East's jack forced declarer's king and a diamond was led toward dummy. The jack won the trick but, when East showed out, the bubble had burst, for two more leads were needed toward the diamond honors, and declarer had but one entry left.

The bidding:

2♦ Pass 3NT Pass

Opening lead: Seven of ♣

Today, we have another instance of the too hasty play to trick one by declarer. The present case was compounded by an unthinking sense of false economy that resulted in the loss of a vulnerable slam.

The final contract was reasonable and North's raise to six no trump was quite sound holding a runnable six card suit and all the side controls.

West opened the seven of clubs, and in order to insure the winning of four tricks in the suit declarer permitted it to run to his hand. East's jack forced declarer's king and a diamond was led toward dummy. The jack won the trick but, when East showed out, the bubble had burst, for two more leads were needed toward the diamond honors, and declarer had but one entry left.

Declarer's handling of the opening lead was dictated by impulse rather than reason. A fourth club trick was the least of declarer's concern—and, in point of fact, was absolutely immaterial. The ten of clubs could at best produce a mythical 13th trick, since the ace of diamonds must be given up in any event.

Declarer had to protect himself against only one holding, that is, all four diamonds in the West hand. If East had all four, declarer's cause would be lost. The important consideration is that declarer must learn of the diamond distribution before releasing any entries to his own hand. So he should win with the ace of clubs in dummy and lead the king of diamonds. West will win with the ace of East discards. Declarer can enter his hand with the king of clubs to lead a diamond. West will play the nine and North the jack. The South hand is reentered with the king of spades and on another diamond lead West's ten is trapped and dummy is high.

Top Quartet To Appear At Event Here

When tri-state residents trek to Fort Hill High School auditorium Saturday at 8:15 p. m. to hear a program of barbershop quartet singing, they will have an opportunity to listen to one of the top groups in the east.

That will be the Oriole Four from Baltimore, a quartet that placed eighth in the international finals of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartets in America in 1959.

The Oriole Four organized on February 25, 1958, and on June 14, 1958, won the Chesapeake Bay District championship.

They are Robert Welzenbach, tenor; James Grant, lead; Fred King, baritone, and Donald Stratton, bass.

Grant and King have been singing together for the past nine years since they were in high school. This is the first quartet for Welzenbach and Stratton. Welzenbach is 22, Stratton, 23; King, 25, and Grant, 25.

Welzenbach works for Bethlehem Steel; King has just started teaching music at Parkville Junior High School; Stratton is an agent for Pilot Life Insurance Company, while Grant just "retired" from the Army in September.

The sponsors of the program October 21 point out that there will be no competition among the four quartets, but they like to cite the accomplishments of this quartet to give the prospective audience an idea of how good they are.

In their first district contest, they won by a large margin, just eight months after they had started singing together. They were the youngest quartet to win a district championship.

Their largest live audience to date was 36,000 people, a performance between games of an Oriole-Yankee baseball doubleheader at Baltimore Memorial Stadium.

Others to be on the program will be The Mountaineers from Oakland comprised of Gordon K. Douglas, baritone; Jay Bell, tenor; Delbert Bittinger, lead, and Asa Stanton, bass.

Then there will be the Waynesmen of Waynesburg, Pa.; the Unaccounted Four of Uniontown, and the large chorus of the Oakland Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartets in America.

Proceeds for this program sponsored by the Cumberland Woman's Civic Club will go toward the development of Camp Tioga, the camp of Shawnee Council, Girl Scouts of America, three miles north of Flintstone.

Ann Landers . . . Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a wholesome, clean-living high school junior, almost 18 years of age. I live in a rather small town which is 300 miles from New York City.

All my life I have dreamed of going to New York and seeing Grant's tomb, the Aquarium, the Statue of Liberty and Radio City. The trouble is, Mrs. Landers, my father can't afford to send me.

Do you happen to know of a kind-hearted columnist who might be able to treat me to this trip around Thanksgiving time? I have figured out that $200 would take care of everything. Thank you very much. — PETER G.

DEAR PETER G.: Sorry, but I haven't been able to locate that money bush you've been dreaming about.

I do have a modest suggestion which may prove helpful. There's an old fashioned activity called "work." People who want things badly enough often resort to it. It's made many dreams come true and it gets my heartiest recommendation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife's mother died recently after a long illness. The doctor bills and hospital bills set us back a small fortune. Now the funeral bills are coming in and we are worried sick. I have signed for everything.

When my mother-in-law became ill we asked the other two daughters and one son if they would pitch in and help. You never heard such hard-luck stories. Her only son said he was sorry but he still owed money on his swimming pool. The daughters said they didn't have the nerve to ask their husbands for "that kind of money."

We have three small children

and are trying to pay for our home.

Shall I ask the others to please pay their mother's funeral expenses as a matter of decency?— OVER MY HEAD

DEAR OVER: You'd better use another word. That tribe doesn't know what decency means. If they refused to help when their mother was living I doubt that they'll help now—especially since you've "signed for everything."

Ask, however, and give them a last chance. Regardless of the outcome, you'll always feel good about having done the right thing, while they must live with the knowledge that they did not.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a high school junior who is 16 years old. There is nothing to do in this town but go to a movie or park in a car and neck.

Several guys from our high school have been in jams with the law. Some have been sent away. But this doesn't solve the problem. They come back and get into more trouble or go to a larger city and get into worse jams.

A lot of kids read your column and this is why I'm writing to you. Maybe you can help us. — BORED TEENS

DEAR TEENS: Are all the parents dead in your town — or just stupid?

You kids need a hall where you can meet and do things. If anyone says it's expensive, tell them it's cheaper than delinquency. There are dozens of activities that are plenty of fun — tennis.

bowling, ping-pong, archery, handball, dancing, dramatic classes — the list is endless. If you can't get your parents interested, then form a committee and tackle it yourselves. I'm sure you can get help and guidance from some clergymen and high school teachers.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

and are trying to pay for our home.

Shall I ask the others to please pay their mother's funeral expenses as a matter of decency? — OVER MY HEAD

DEAR OVER: You'd better use another word. That tribe doesn't know what decency means. If they refused to help when their mother was living I doubt that they'll help now—especially since you've "signed for everything."

Ask, however, and give them a last chance. Regardless of the outcome, you'll always feel good about having done the right thing, while they must live with the knowledge that they did not.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a high school junior who is 16 years old. There is nothing to do in this town but go to a movie or park in a car and neck.

Several guys from our high school have been in jams with the law. Some have been sent away. But this doesn't solve the problem. They come back and get into more trouble or go to a large city and get into worse jams.

A lot of kids read your column and this is why I'm writing to you. Maybe you can help us. — BORED TEENS

DEAR TEENS: Are all the parents dead in your town — or just stupid?

You kids need a hall where you can meet and do things. If anyone says it's expensive, tell them it's cheaper than delinquency. There are dozens of activities that are plenty of fun — tennis, bowling, ping-pong, archery, handball, dancing, dramatic classes — the list is endless. If you can't get your parents interested, then form a committee and tackle it yourselves. I'm sure you can get help and guidance from some clergymen and high school teachers.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Reach Exceeds Our Grasp

Everyone who has followed space news has probably read about the Van Allen belts—those horseshoe-shaped areas of charged and rather lethal particles trapped by the earth's magnetic fields. They are named after Dr. James A. Van Allen, head of the physics department of the State University of Iowa.

Now he has a medal and a $2,500 award for his pioneer work. Since nobody can patent the Van Allen belts or make a profit on them, we suppose that is all he will get.

In accepting the award, Dr. Van Allen made a remark worth cogitating. America's ambitions in space, he said, outrun its present skills in space science. This shouldn't necessarily hurt our chances of catching up with Russia, however. For, says Van Allen, Russia is suffering no less than we are from the shortage of knowledge and manpower and the excess of ambitions in this field. Russia is temporarily superior to the U. S. in rocket thrust, but what Van Allen was talking about was other aspects of the vast problem. In a few years we may succeed in matching Russia in thrust, but that in itself will not put a man on the moon.

We do need the realism to relate what we want to accomplish to what we are able to accomplish. If we have such realism — and Dr. Van Allen seems to fear we lack it — then far-flung ambitions are not necessarily a bad thing. Didn't Browning say that a man's reach should exceed his grasp?

Jews In Russia

Captain Joshua L. Goldberg, who for many years was the leading rabbi in the chaplain corps of the United States Navy, spent some time recently in Soviet Russia. Chaplain Goldberg, generally known as "Josh," came to the United States in 1917 and immediately enlisted in the Army where he learned English; in World War II he made an enviable record in the Navy. Besides English, he speaks Russian, Hebrew, Yiddish, French and other languages.

He did not go to Russia to make a study of conditions there, but speaking various languages and being of Russian origin, he was able to probe deeply into the life of the people who interested him most, the Jews, among whom he is respected as a rabbi. In an article in "Look" he discusses his experiences and the conclusions he has reached:

"While the Jews in the Soviet Union are officially recognized as a distinct 'nationality,' their national life is devoid of any institutional or organizational expression. There are no Jewish schools, publishing houses, historical research or folklore institutes, although other Soviet nationalities enjoy these facilities as a matter of course.

"Religiously, too, the Jews find themselves at a distinct disadvantage. Other religions in Russia have regained some status in recent years; the Jews still have none. The few synagogues in some major cities are too small to accommodate Russia's Jews. The Jews are afraid to go to the synagogues lest their children lose their jobs; afraid to complain, lest they be accused of being counter-revolutionaries; afraid to ask for a visa to join families in Israel lest they be accused of participating in Zionist-capitalist conspiracies; afraid to communicate with relatives in the United States lest they be dubbed potential spies. They have become a community of whisperers in a kingdom of fear."

Rabbi Goldberg says: "Being a Jew under the czars was only a disability — not a calamity. Within these restrictions, the Jews developed a rich intellectual, cultural and, most important, religious life.

Great Talmudic academies, whose function was to preserve traditional religious material and educate rabbis, judges and teachers, provided outstanding leaders."

This has disappeared. Jewish life has its roots in the Hebrew language and literature; the language not only preserves traditions and manners but also binds the Jewish people together in five or six thousand years of history. This has been destroyed. Yiddish, a jargon based on Low German, but including Russian and Polish words, has a limited relationship to Jewish traditional life and no relationship to the Jewish religion. This is permitted in Soviet Russia.

Goldberg's article is worth reading because it is the first on the subject which pierces deeply into the philosophy of Bolshevism and the psychology of the Jew. The evidence is well established that anti-Semitism is stronger in Communist Russia than it was in Czarist Russia because whereas in Czarist Russia, anti-Semitism was physical, in Soviet Russia it is in the roots of the very existence of the Jews as a culture. Czarist Russia killed individual Jews; Soviet Russia seeks to wipe out the Jews as a distinctive ethnic and cultural group. The Goldberg article's merit lies in its avoidance of superficialities, dealing only with fundamentals.

Mrs. Henrietta Goldberg, who accompanied her husband to Russia, wrote some articles for the Newark "Star-Ledger" which tell of the shock at the sight of equality between the sexes, women shovelling snow or digging ditches. She writes:

"Continuing along the route where the improvements were being made, I was startled to see a small unit of these trench diggers lying prone on the snowy sidewalk. For a moment I thought they were men, because they wore the same baggy dark trousers and heavy felt boots, but coming closer, these women were fast asleep. We call it coffee break in America."

It is tough to witness brutality but the Russians have reduced the proletariat to just a little above slavery and there is no possibility of improving conditions as long as women are equal to men in the labor force. This equality reduces women to an animalistic state. Such conditions exist in Asia but it is not customary in Europe that women should be working with pick and shovel.

Just as the Jew is being reduced to spiritual servility, so the proletarian woman is being reduced to an almost inhuman thing, ugly, badly clothed, living without taste or emotional responses.

The view of Russia that we generally get from visitors is too violently antagonistic and unbelievable or too saccharine in the amazement of accomplishment. In the Goldberg studies, we have a husband and wife who approach the problem sympathetically and objectively. Chaplain Goldberg sought what had happened to the Jews and what he found was unbelievably vile; Mrs. Goldberg looked at the Russian woman and found a brutalized result of a cruel system. Yet none of these articles is antagonistic; they rather express pity.

'I'm Still Not Sure That Leg Needs A Cast'

Will Reds Act Tougher After This Week?

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON Within a few days, the Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union will assemble in Moscow. Whatever result it produces, it will be a major event; for the party line as laid down by the Party Congress, will rigidly bind all party members, including Nikita S. Khrushchev himself.

The program for the Congress, published some weeks ago by Khrushchev, did not appear to indicate a radical change in party line. There was no hint of anything like the famous de-Stalinization decision of the Twentieth Party Congress. But the Western Embassies in Moscow and certain of the leading demagogues here in Washington are nonetheless inclined to expect a major change of a distinctly ugly sort.

What is forecast, in fact, is nothing less than a change in the sacred investment priorities of the Soviet State, in order to finance a sharp increase in the already massive Soviet military effort.

Investment priorities, it must be remembered, are the ark of the covenant of the Soviet planned economy. Georgiy Malenkov fell from power under attack by Khrushchev, because he advocated more generous investment in consumer goods and less emphasis on heavy industry. Khrushchev, in turn, has based his whole policy and program on investments aimed for a maximum rate of industrial growth, with the often stated purpose of "overtaking the United States."

By Soviet standards, however, the Khrushchev investment program has been a carefully balanced one. Once Malenkov was safely out of the way, some of his ideas were adopted by Khrushchev. In the years of the Khrushchev dictatorship, the Soviet consumer has been comparatively well treated. By the same token, primary emphasis has been placed upon general industrial investment; and certain limits have been put on direct military investment.

The existence of these limits on military investment is clearly proven by the present state of Soviet nuclear striking power. There is no other explanation, in truth, for the key fact that the Soviets do not now have enough intercontinental ballistic missiles to permit a surprise attack on this country.

Several years have passed since Khrushchev first possessed a workable ICBM, heavy, cumbersome, no doubt enormously expensive, but entirely capable of destroying American targets. By using the ruthless former priorities of Josef Stalin — by starving every other activity in favor of the military effort — Khrushchev could certainly have turned out enough of these missiles for a surprise attack on the U. S. Instead, unless the Pentagon is appallingly wrong on this life-and-death point, Khrushchev has nothing like enough ICBMs at present.

Members of his military staff must have told him, "By making such sacrifices elsewhere, we can have the 300 ICBMs in 1961 which we shall then need for surprise attack on America." But he has now only about fifty of these ultimate weapons. Thus a choice favoring other investments must surely have been made.

But this kind of choice will not be repeated hereafter, if the Party Congress changes the party line to accord unchallengeable investment priority to the Soviet military budget. This is what the demagogues are now, unhappily, beginning to forecast.

In part, the forecast is based on the atmosphere and management of the Berlin crisis. The Hitler-tactics Khrushchev used so freely during the spring and most of the summer obviously reflected an increasing preoccupation with naked military power. Khrushchev was willing, even downright eager, to tell the British Ambassador in Moscow that he had plenty of medium range missiles to "annihilate" the British Isles, and to give the exact number. He must have hankered to be able to say the same sort of thing to the U. S. Ambassador.

The same preoccupation with military power was quite clearly reflected in the Soviet decision to resume nuclear testing. Once taken, the decision was announced in a way meant to reinforce Khrushchev's other experiments with Hitler-tactics. But behind the decision itself, there must have been an irresistible urge to improve the efficiency and increase the destructiveness of the Soviet nuclear arsenal.

Yet these current symptoms of an increasingly militaristic tendency in Moscow will pale into insignificance beside the kind of decision of the Party Congress that is now being forecast. If the forecast proves accurate, a somber period lies ahead.

ALBUMIN AND DIABETES

T. K. writes: Is albumin in the urine a forerunner of diabetes?

REPLY
Albumin is more likely to be associated with a kidney disorder. Diabetes is due to disease of the pancreas and there is an excessive amount of sugar in the blood which spills over into the urine.

WIFELY CARE
E. S. writes: How can a wife help a husband with angina to keep chest pains away? He takes two tablets a day but has difficulty in walking more than a block.

REPLY
Keep the atmosphere in the home calm and serene and don't lead your husband a merry chase. Be encouraging and insist upon moderation in all things, including regular hours of sleep. A diet low in calories, particularly fats, may be appropriate. Your husband should not walk far enough to develop pain. It is better to stop for a few seconds just short of the usual distance that brings on distress. The alternative is to take nitroglycerine before leaving the house. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on angina pectoris.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Barber's itch is ringworm of the beard. The term stems from the days when the barbers were less clean and careful. At present, the chief source of this fungus is wild or domestic animals and the absence of a coordinating system or reflex circuit is less of a handicap than having a faulty one.

Nevertheless, we must find the reason why this center degenerates and makes the hands and head shake and the muscles stiffen. In addition, the face assumes a masklike or frozen expression and the individual walks with a shuffling gait.

There is neither paralysis nor muscle wasting; speech and intelligence usually are preserved. These are the encouraging features of the problem and show why early treatment is necessary and usually pays dividends.

TOMORROW: Improving brain circulation.

IRRITATED BRONCHI

F. L. writes: Can a person get short winded from smoking?

REPLY
Yes, especially if the lining of the bronchi becomes irritated.

VEIN STRIPPING

R. H. writes: Will stripping of varicose veins be successful if the injection method has been used previously?

REPLY
Yes, assuming that the injection method failed to eliminate the vein.

In part, the forecast is based on the atmosphere and management of the Berlin crisis. The Hitler-tactics Khrushchev used so freely during the spring and most of the summer obviously reflected an increasing preoccupation with naked military power. Khrushchev was willing, even downright eager, to tell the British Ambassador in Moscow that he had plenty of medium range missiles to "annihilate" the British Isles, and to give the exact number. He must have hankered to be able to say the same sort of thing to the U. S. Ambassador.

The same preoccupation with military power was quite clearly reflected in the Soviet decision to resume nuclear testing. Once taken, the decision was announced in a way meant to reinforce Khrushchev's other experiments with Hitler-tactics. But behind the decision itself, there must have been an irresistible urge to improve the efficiency and increase the destructiveness of the Soviet nuclear arsenal.

Yet these current symptoms of an increasingly militaristic tendency in Moscow will pale into insignificance beside the kind of decision of the Party Congress that is now being forecast. If the forecast proves accurate, a somber period lies ahead.

Michigan State's Spartans Take Over Lead In AP Football Poll

Notre Dame Jumps Into Sixth Spot

Michigan, Baylor, Maryland Beaten, Drop From Top 10

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State's smashing victory over Michigan — achieved before a national television audience — has shot the Spartans to the top of the Associated Press weekly football poll.

The Big Ten power, 28-0 winner over its highly rated state rival, edged Mississippi out of the No. 1 position in close balloting although Ole Miss received the greater number of first-place votes. Mississippi beat Houston 47-7.

Ole Miss Is Second

The panel of sports writing and broadcasting experts gave Michigan State a total of 431 points and Mississippi 429. This meant the voting was so close that a single ballot of the 48 cast could have altered the outcome.

Mississippi, which has won its first four games impressively, received 21 first-place votes compared with 16 for Michigan State. The Spartan drew stronger general support, however.

The poll is based on 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second and on down the line.

The rest of the top 10 also underwent considerable change. Texas, the Southwest scourge which has won four in a row, moved to No. 3. Then followed, in order: 4, Iowa; 5, Alabama; 6, Notre Dame; 7, Ohio State; 8, Georgia Tech; 9, Colorado; 10, a tie between Arkansas and Louisiana State.

Texas, 28-7 winner over Oklahoma, moved up a notch from fourth. Iowa, which whipped Indiana 27-8, and Alabama, 26-7 victor over North Carolina State, each dropped two places although they remained unbeaten.

Notre Dame Climbs

Notre Dame's surprising Irish, who get a shot at Michigan State Saturday at East Lansing, Mich., climbed from eighth to sixth on their 30-0 rout of Southern California. Ohio State held firm at No. 7 after smashing Illinois 44-0.

The lower part of the standings is composed of newcomers — Georgia Tech, 21-0 winner over Duke; Colorado, which edged Miami (Fla.) 9-7; Arkansas, 23-13 victor over Baylor, and Louisiana State, which walloped South Carolina 42-0.

Terps Fade Out

Michigan, sixth last week, fell from the running, as did Baylor and Maryland, the latter beaten by North Carolina 14-8.

The front runners face formidable going this week. Besides Michigan State's wrestle with Notre Dame, Texas takes on Arkansas and Alabama has a tough test against Tennessee.

Machen Favored In London Bout

LONDON (AP) — Eddie Machen, 29-year-old American slugger was rated 3-1 favorite Monday to defeat Britain's Brian London in a 10-round heavyweight fight at indoor Wembley Stadium Tuesday night.

The Portland, Ore., fighter is variously rated as the No. 2 and No. 3 challenger for Floyd Patterson's world title. London, a former British and Empire champion, is not in the top 10.

The fight is London's chance to get back a rating among the world's top boxers. Defeat for Machen would send his chances plummeting — maybe for good.

Machen has been to Europe only once before. The visit was a painful one at the expense of a thundering right hand from Ingemar Johansson in Sweden Sept. 14, 1958.

Kenny Lane Beats "Jaguar Of Sahara"

PARIS (UPI) — Lightweight contender Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., Monday night won a 10-round decision over Aissa Hashas, French-Algerian knockout specialist, before a turn-away crowd of 5,000 at the Palais Des Sports.

Southpaw Lane, weighing 136½ pounds to Hashas' 136½, tagged the "Jaguar of the Sahara" with his second defeat in 29 professional bouts.

It was a close fight in which Lane's greater experience gave him a slight superiority, as sandy-haired Kenny achieved his 67th victory in 79 bouts.

Lane, former title challenger, is ranked sixth among lightweight contenders. Hashas, who scored 23 knockouts in his 27 victories, is not rated among the top 10.

Bruce, Beall Booters Clash At Frostburg

Bulldogs' Victory Would Tie Valley For Lead In WMI

Bruce High School's undefeated Bulldogs will be given an opportunity to tie the Valley High School for first place when they tackle the Beall High Mountaineers today at 3:30 p.m., at Frostburg in an important W.M.I. Soccer League game.

Valley is setting the pace in the five school circuit with a 3-0-1 record while Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs occupy the runner-up with two wins and one tie game, a 1-1 affair with the Black Knights.

Beall's defending champions are now in third place with a 2-1-0 record and are still considered a title contender.

Bruce can tie Valley for the league leadership by winning today's game. A Beall victory would put Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's team in second place, one point behind Valley, and the loss would drop the Bulldogs into third position. If the teams battle to a tie today there will be no change in the positions of the teams.

Last season Bruce and Beall fought to a 1-1 tie in the opening game but the Mountaineers coped the final, 2-1, to annex the title.

Jack Burner and Bob Kirk will officiate in today's contest. Mt. Savage and Flintstone, winless to date and defeated thrice, are slated to tangle today at Mt. Savage in the first game of their annual series. John Fatkin and Clifton Van Roby are the officials for this tilt.

Today's games will mark the close of the first half of the league's 20-game schedule. The second half will get under way one week from today.

Syracuse Leads In Lambert Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Syracuse, which boosted its season record to 3-1 last weekend with a 28-6 victory over Nebraska, widened its lead Monday in the Lambert Trophy ratings for the Eastern college football championship.

The Orangemen received all but one of the first-place ballots of the panel of coaches, writers and broadcasters who vote each week. Syracuse thus had a point-score of 9.9. Next Saturday, Syracuse meets Penn State, ranked sixth in the East.

Navy, with a 3-1 record, was second to Syracuse with an 8.6 point score. Army was third with 7.5; Villanova fourth with 7.4 and Rutgers fifth with 5.8.

Penn State, Dartmouth, Pitt, Princeton and Holy Cross rounded out this week's eastern top 10.

Phils Get Oldis

COLUMBUS (UPI) — The Columbus Jets Monday shipped catcher Robert Oldis to the Philadelphia Phillies in exchange for cash and catcher Cal Neuman of the Buffalo Bisons.

The Jets also acquired southpaw pitcher Robert (Riverboat) Smith outright from the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Neuman caught all four games in the Little World Series for the champion Bisons, who are affiliated with the Phillies.

The victory was the third against three losses and one tie game for Keyser.

Dan Darr gave Allegany a 6-0 lead in the first quarter by running five yards for a touchdown. Keyser, however, tied the score in the second quarter when Darrell Rotruck booted over from the two and registered the winning six-pointer on a nine-yard run by Bob Darr in the final period.

Patterson Signs For Title Bout With McNeeley

TORONTO (UPI) — Champion Floyd Patterson and unbeaten Tom McNeeley of Arlington, Mass., signed contracts Monday for the first world heavyweight title fight in Canada's history, to be staged at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, Dec. 4.

In this 15-round bout, originally scheduled for Boston, Patterson again will be protected by the mandatory eight-count — a title-bout rarity that may have saved his crown in his last defense against Ingemar Johansson.

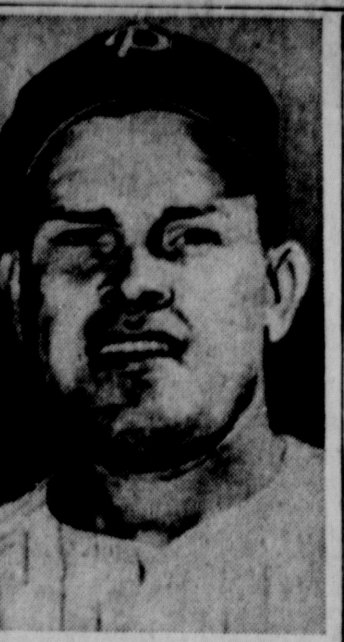

Patterson also is guaranteed a return title bout shot within 120 days in case he loses to McNeeley in December.

Coach Resigns

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Sparky Stalcup, basketball coach at the University of Missouri for the past 15 years, resigned Monday. The resignation is effective at the close of the 1961-62 season.

Stalcup said he is quitting to accept the job of assistant director of athletics at Missouri. Don Faurout is director of athletics.

Stalcup is also president of the National Basketball Coaches Association.

Yanks Purchase Robin Roberts From Phillies

Pitched 14 Years In National Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees Monday bought the veteran Robin Roberts from the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Yanks announced it was a straight cash deal and the amount of money was not disclosed.

Roberts, 35-year-old right-hander, won only one game and lost 10 for the last place Phillies in 1961. However, in 14 years in the National League he won 234 games and lost 199.

"We have nothing to lose and everything to gain by this purchase," said Roy Hamey, Yankee general manager. "I know Robin well and he's a proud competitor. He's always in shape and I know he'll make every effort to help out the club in 1962."

Roberts will report to the Yankees' new spring training base at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in February.

"It's Wonderful," Roberts Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Playing with the Yankees is the place to be," said Robin Roberts Monday of his sale by the Philadelphia Phillies to the world champion New York club.

"I think it's wonderful," asserted a beaming Roberts.

"Anybody knows that in baseball the deal is to win or lose. I've watched the Yankees play and I want to be a part of all that," said the 35-year-old pitcher.

Asked if he looked forward to being a starting pitcher with the Yankees, Robert said, "To be honest with you, I have no intention of saying what I should do. I'll just show up."

U.S. Davis Cup Team Bows Out

Italy Gains Right To Play Australia

ROME (AP — Nicola Pietrangeli struck the knockout blow Monday as Italy again crushed U.S. Davis Cup tennis hopes in won, 4-1.

Pietrangeli sewed up the Italian victory by beating Jon Douglas, from Santa Monica, 9-7, 6-3, 6-2, in the first of the final singles matches at the Rome Tennis Club.

Fausto Gardini, the Italian champion, beat Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., in a marathon battle which lasted three hours and five minutes. The score was 3-6, 7-5, 3-6, 8-6, 6-4.

The Italians, surprise conquerors of the Americans last year in Australia, again go into the challenge round against Australia at Melbourne in late December.

Until beaten in the interzone final at Perth last year, the United States had not been shut out of the challenge round for a period of 25 years.

Patterson Signs For Title Bout With McNeeley

TORONTO (UPI) — Champion Floyd Patterson and unbeaten Tom McNeeley of Arlington, Mass., signed contracts Monday for the first world heavyweight title fight in Canada's history, to be staged at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, Dec. 4.

In this 15-round bout, originally scheduled for Boston, Patterson again will be protected by the mandatory eight-count — a title-bout rarity that may have saved his crown in his last defense against Ingemar Johansson.

Patterson also is guaranteed a return title bout within 120 days in case he loses to McNeeley in December.

Coach Resigns

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Sparky Stalcup, basketball coach at the University of Missouri for the past 15 years, resigned Monday. The resignation is effective at the close of the 1961-62 season.

Stalcup said he is quitting to accept the job of assistant director of athletics at Missouri. Don Faurot is director of athletics.

Stalcup is also president of the National Basketball Coaches Association.

Yanks Purchase Robin Roberts From Phillies

Pitched 14 Years In National Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees Monday bought the veteran Robin Roberts from the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Yanks announced it was a straight cash deal and the amount of money was not disclosed.

Roberts, 35-year-old right-hander, won only one game and lost 10 for the last place Phillies in 1961. However, in 14 years in the National League he won 234 games and lost 199.

"We have nothing to lose and everything to gain by this purchase," said Roy Hamey, Yankee general manager. "I know Robin well and he's a proud competitor. He's always in shape and I know he'll make every effort to help out the club in 1962."

Roberts will report to the Yankees' new spring training base at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in February.

"It's Wonderful," Roberts Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Playing with the Yankees is the place to be," said Robin Roberts Monday of his sale by the Philadelphia Phillies to the world champion New York club.

"I think it's wonderful," asserted a beaming Roberts.

"Anybody knows that in baseball the deal is to win or lose. I've watched the Yankees play and I want to be a part of all that," said the 35-year-old pitcher.

Asked if he looked forward to being a starting pitcher with the Yankees, Robert said, "To be honest with you, I have no intention of saying what I should do. I'll just show up."

U.S. Davis Cup Team Bows Out

Italy Gains Right To Play Australia

ROME (AP) — Nicola Pietrangeli struck the knockout blow Monday as Italy again crushed U.S. Davis Cup tennis hopes in won, 4-1.

Pietrangeli sewed up the Italian victory by beating Jon Douglas, from Santa Monica, 9-7, 6-3, 6-2, in the first of the final singles matches at the Rome Tennis Club.

Fausto Gardini, the Italian champion, beat Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., in a marathon battle which lasted three hours and five minutes. The score was 3-6, 7-5, 3-6, 8-6, 6-4.

The Italians, surprise conquerors of the Americans last year in Australia, again go into the challenge round against Australia at Melbourne in late December.

Until beaten in the interzone final at Perth last year, the United States had not been shut out of the challenge round for a period of 25 years.

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion New York Yankees hold four positions on the 1961 Associated Press major league all-star team announced Monday.

Outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, catcher Elton Howard and shortstop Tony Kubek were the Yankees named to the squad in the annual poll of members of the Baseball Writers Association.

Two Reds Land Berths

The National League pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds and the Milwaukee Braves each placed two players on the team. The Reds picked were outfielder Frank Robinson and right-handed pitcher Joey Jay. Second baseman Frank Bolling and left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn were the Braves' players chosen.

First baseman Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers and third baseman Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals round out the squad.

Maris and Spahn were the only holdovers from last season's team. Howard Easy Winner.

The balloting for catcher produced the most one-sided competition with Howard receiving 156 of the 171 votes cast. Johnny Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers was a distant second with 4 votes.

The closest race was for shortstop with Kubek edging Maury Wills of the Dodgers 59 to 57. The balloting for left-handed pitcher also was tight with Spahn collecting 83 votes as compared to 78 for Whitey Ford of the Yankees.

Mantle and Howard were the top vote-getters with 156 apiece. Maris was next with 136. Then came Robinson, 118; Cash, 105; Jay, 88; Spahn, 83; Boyer, 79; Kubek, 59 and Bolling 58.

Billy Loes Bought
By New York Mets

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Mets, who will begin operations in the National League next season, announced Monday the conditional purchase of pitcher Billy Loes from the San Francisco Giants.

The purchase price was not revealed, but if Loes does not make the grade with the Mets in spring training, he will be returned to the Giants.

Loes, a former Dodger, is a right-hander who will be 32 years old Dec. 13. He worked in 26 games for the Giants last season, winning six and losing five.

Newspapers Asked To Quit Practice Of Printing Odds

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Bateman, coach of unbeaten Rutgers, made a plea Monday for newspapers to abandon the practice of printing the odds or point spreads on football games.

He cited cases to the New York football writers where his own squad had reacted indirectly to such news.

"We have beaten Princeton for the fourth straight year in our opening game," said Bateman. "Instead of winning 16-13 you would have thought we had lost the ball game from the reaction of some of the fans."

"Instead of celebrating another victory over our ancient rival, some of the boys' friends were saying 'nice game, you cost me money. You should have won by six points.' How do you think the players felt? They didn't care about points. All they wanted to do was win."

COACH TOM NUGENT SAYS FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT MUST BE RE-DESIGNED

Terms Plastic
Helmets, Face
Masks Weapons

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—With more than 20 deaths in football already this season, Maryland Coach Tom Nugent Monday blamed "nose on the ball" blocking and tackling as well as equipment that provides "weapons instead of protection."

"New coaching techniques may be partially responsible," Nugent asserted. "But there is no question in my mind—although the manufacturers won't like it—that equipment must be re-designed, too."

Nugent's suggestion is that the unyielding plastic helmets now in use be replaced by the old-time yielding leather helmets or else be covered with soft sponge rubber.

"Devastating Weapons"
"I know what I'm talking about," said the forthright Maryland coach. "On the second day of practice three years ago one of our players died when his kidneys stopped functioning. He had a thorough medical examination before practice started but it points up the extreme precautions which must be taken."

The new technique of "nose on the ball" tackling and blocking also may be partly responsible, he analyzed. "Players now are taught to make their tackle with their noses on the ball or the letters," he explained. "This is done to knock the ball loose or cause a fumble. But it involves keeping the head in an upright position and can be a major cause of neck or head injuries."

At the same time, he argued, the current unyielding plastic helmets with their face masks are "devastating weapons."

Helmets Don't Yield
"They don't yield," Nugent said. "I'd like to see them put back the leather in the helmets because it did yield. Or else see the helmet covered with sponge rubber. Those plastic jobs are causing more broken ribs than you could believe possible."

John Bateman, the Rutgers football coach, seconded Nugent's claim and added that "all hard equipment should be eliminated."

"Some shoulderpads, as example, are like iron," Bateman said. "As for the helmets, I'd like to see them padded more on the inside as well as the outside. They all should be encased or covered with a yielding material."

Waivers Asked
On Schoendienst, Sought As Coach

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis baseball Cardinals asked waivers Monday on 17-year veteran Red Schoendienst in order to make him a full-time coach. The announcement apparently signals the end of the redhead's active playing days.

Contacted at home, the 38-year-old second baseman said, "Well, I guess to all intents and purposes my playing days are over. There's always the chance I can be reinstated, depending on what happens next season, but I'm happy to be with the ballclub as a coach."

Coupled with the announcement about Schoendienst's unconditional release as a player was word that the Redbirds have signed coaches Harry Walker, Howard Pollet and Vern Benson for 1962.

Schoendienst batted .300 last season as a part-time performer and coach with the Redbirds, who signed him in the spring after the Milwaukee Braves gave him his unconditional release.

Rookies Join Birds

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles added two rookies, Second Baseman Willard Oplinger and Catcher Larry Haney, to their roster Monday.

Both of the 18-year-olds played the past season with Bluefield, W.Va., in the Class D Appalachian League. Oplinger is from Northampton, Pa., and Haney from Barboursville, Va.

One of the teams in the National Bowling League, now with 10 teams, is called the Orphans because it has no home arena.

Four Yankees Are Named On Major All-Star Team

Maris And Spahn
Repeat; Joey Jay
Of Reds Honored

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion New York Yankees hold four positions on the 1961 Associated Press major league all-star team announced Monday.

Outfielders Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, catcher Elston Howard and shortstop Tony Kubek were the Yanks named to the squad in the annual poll of members of the Baseball Writers Association.

Two Reds Land Berths

The National League pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds and the Milwaukee Braves each placed two players on the team. The Reds picked were outfielder Frank Robinson and right-handed pitcher Joey Jay. Second baseman Frank Bolling and left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn were the Braves' players chosen.

First baseman Norm Cash of the Detroit Tigers and third baseman Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals round out the squad. Maris and Spahn were the only holdovers from last season's team.

Howard Easy Winner

The balloting for catcher produced the most one-sided competition with Howard receiving 156 of the 171 votes cast. Johnny Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers was a distant second with 4 votes.

The closest race was for shortstop with Kubek edging Maury Wills of the Dodgers 59 to 57. The balloting for left-handed pitcher also was tight with Spahn collecting 83 votes as compared to 78 for Whitey Ford of the Yanks.

Mantle and Howard were the top vote-getters with 156 apiece. Maris was next with 136. Then came Robinson, 118; Cash, 105; Jay, 83; Spahn, 83; Boyer, 79; Kubek, 59 and Bolling, 58.

Gentle On 2nd Team

The rest of the second team, in addition to Roseboro, Wills and Ford; first base—Jim Gentile, Orioles (35 votes); second base—

Bobby Richardson, Yanks (47); third base — Ed Mathews, Braves (69); outfield — Willie Mays, Giants (28); Roberto Clemente, Pirates (24) and Rocky Colavito, Tigers (14); right-handed pitcher — Frank Lary, Tigers, (74).

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Mets, who will begin operations in the National League next season, announced Monday the conditional purchase of pitcher Billy Loes from the San Francisco Giants.

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Bateman, coach of unbeaten Rutgers, made a plea Monday for newspapers to abandon the practice of printing the odds or point spreads on football games.

He cited cases to the New York football writers where his own squad had reacted indirectly to such news.

"We have beaten Princeton for the fourth straight year in our opening game," said Bateman. "Instead of winning 16-13 you would have thought we had lost the ball game from the reaction of some of the fans."

"Instead of celebrating another victory over our ancient rival, some of the boys' friends were saying 'nice game, you cost me money. You should have won by six points.' How do you think the players felt? They didn't care about points. All they wanted to do was win."

COACH TOM NUGENT SAYS FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT MUST BE RE-DESIGNED

Terms Plastic
Helmets, Face
Masks Weapons

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — With more than 20 deaths in football already this season, Maryland Coach Tom Nugent Monday blamed "nose on the ball" blocking and tackling as well as equipment that provides "weapons instead of protection."

"New coaching techniques may be partially responsible," Nugent asserted. "But there is no question in my mind—although the manufacturers won't like it—that equipment must be re-designed, too."

Nugent's suggestion is that the unyielding plastic helmets now in use be replaced by the old-time yielding leather helmets or else be covered with soft sponge rubber.

"Devastating Weapons"

"I know what I'm talking about," said the forthright Maryland coach. "On the second day of practice three years ago one of our players died when his kidneys stopped functioning. He had a thorough medical examination before practice started but it points up the extreme precautions which must be taken."

The new technique of "nose on the ball" tackling and blocking also may be partly responsible, he analyzed.

"Players now are taught to make their tackle with their noses on the ball or the letters," he explained. "This is done to knock the ball loose or cause a fumble. But it involves keeping the head in an upright position and can be a major cause of neck or head injuries."

At the same time, he argued, the current unyielding plastic helmets with their face masks are "devastating weapons."

Helmets Don't Yield

"They don't yield," Nugent said. "I'd like to see them put back the leather in the helmets because it did yield. Or else see the helmet covered with sponge rubber. Those plastic jobs are causing more broken ribs than you could believe possible."

John Bateman, the Rutgers football coach, seconded Nugent's claim and added that "all hard equipment should be eliminated."

"Some shoulderpads, as example, are like iron," Bateman said. "As for the helmets, I'd like to see them padded more on the inside as well as the outside. They all should be encased or covered with a yielding material."

Rookies Join Birds

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles added two rookies, Second Baseman Willard Olinger and Catcher Larry Haney, to their roster Monday.

Both of the 18-year-olds played the past season with Bluefield, W.Va., in the Class D Appalachian League. Olinger is from Northampton, Pa., and Haney from Baraboursville, Va.

One of the teams in the National Bowling League, now with 10 teams, is called the Orphans because it has no home arena.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Wheat and rye futures advanced Monday on the Board of Trade, but other grains lost ground.

Closing prices found wheat unchanged to up 1/4; corn off 1/2 to 1; oats off 1/4 to 1/2; rye up 1/4 to 1 1/2; soybeans off 1/4 to 1/2.

A large wheat purchase by Turkey and prospects for substantial export business later this week prompted buying in wheat futures.

Turkey reportedly bought 4,600,000 bushels of wheat for October-November delivery. Exporters said Brazil, Spain, Colombia, Chile, Tunisia and West Germany were also in the market for wheat.

A sharp upturn at Winnipeg attracted demand for local rye futures.

Good crop reports, hedging and profit-taking weakened corn prices. Data declined in sympathy. Government sales were light, but traders were still uncertain about future CCC selling plans.

Confusing reports last week sparked a big advance in corn prices.

Soybeans edged lower in quiet trading. Hedge sales increased, and the market had little support. Some commercial interests bought on the decline. Soybean stocks at Chicago rose 2,500,000 bushels last week.

Soybean oil and meal contracts but the nearby month also declined.

Outside markets were mixed.

The U. S. visible supply of wheat fell 626,000 bushels this week to leave 502,445,000, according to Board of Trade statistics. Corn stocks lost 1,363,000 bushels, leaving 2,132,000. Rye stocks dropped 900,000 bushels, leaving 2,329,000. Barley declined 36,000 to 21,904,000, while soybeans added 6,332,000 to 10,865,000 bushels.

Lepley Gets Seven Years For Assault

Jury Convicts Local Man After Brief Deliberation

Eugene S. Lepley, 40-year-old local man, yesterday afternoon was sentenced to seven years in the Maryland Penitentiary after being found guilty of assault and battery in the June 15 shooting of Harry M. Smith, 28, Cash Valley Road, outside the Homewood Tavern on Mt. Savage Road.

Sentence was announced by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris minutes after the petit jury returned its verdict after deliberating only 20 minutes following the all-day trial in Allegany County Circuit Court. The jury found Lepley not guilty of the more serious count of assault with intent to kill. Associate Judge W. Earle Coby, who sat with Judge Harris, concurred in the sentence.

In imposing the stiff sentence upon Lepley, the judges were influenced by his long criminal record. He was paroled from the Maryland Penitentiary only in April after having served more than seven years of a 10 year sentence on a charge of assault with intent to rob an Ellerslie man on November 30, 1953. He was tried in February 1954.

After the sentence was passed Lepley was handcuffed and returned to the county jail by Deputy Sheriff George Staup.

Before passing sentence, the judges heard a report of Lepley's past criminal record given by State's Attorney James S. Getty, who along with Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, presented the state's case.

George R. Hughes Jr., who represented the defendant, entered a plea of not guilty to assault with intent to kill at the outset of the trial yesterday morning.

The state completed its case at 2:15 p.m. yesterday after five witnesses, including two state policemen, testified.

The first witness to take the stand yesterday afternoon was Charles M. Reckley, owner of the building where the tavern is located. He said he was in his apartment above the tavern when the disturbance began although he said he heard no shot.

Reckley said he went outside after hearing a commotion and told the group to "break it up" and the first thing he knew there was a "gun in my stomach." When asked who was wielding the gun, Reckley answered "Lepley, I suppose." He said he was able to identify two of the men, and went back into the apartment.

Francis Haselberger, 21, of Locust Grove, who was present at the commotion, testified that Lepley shoved the gun in Reckley's stomach.

Reckley's wife testified that she was collecting tickets to a dance at the tavern on the night of the shooting and the defendant had come to the door on three occasions that evening in search of Smith.

The third time he came to the door, about 11:30 p.m., Smith was at the tavern, according to Mrs. Reckley who said they both left the tavern. She said Smith had his arm around Lepley's neck and they were laughing and apparently not angry at one another.

Lepley was charged with firing a .22 calibre semi-automatic rifle during an ensuing altercation with the bullet penetrating both thighs of Smith.

Tic. Milton G. Hart, criminal investigator of the State Police, related that he took Lepley into custody the night of the shooting. He recounted how Lepley, Robert W. Eversole, 20, of 118 Valley Street and Richard M. Welsh, 32, of RD 1, Bedford, were arrested on U.S. Route 40 in the Narrows at a roadblock set up by State Police.

Trooper Hart said he noticed a .22 calibre rifle and some shells in the car. He ejected a spent shell from the rifle and found other shells in the magazine of the gun.

A statement taken from Lepley at state police barracks about eight hours after his arrest was read in court and entered as Exhibit No. 1 by the state's attorney. The gun and a shell were entered as Exhibits No. 2 and 3 respectively.

City Tax Office Is Preparing For Busy Week

Interest To Begin After Next Monday

The City Tax Office is preparing for a busy week as the deadline for payment of taxes at par approaches.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said city taxes can be paid interest free until the close of business next Monday, October 23. Mailed payments postmarked until midnight will be accepted at par.

Beginning October 24, interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month and dating back to the setting of the levy on August 21, will be charged.

Payments Accepted
The Finance Department will, as usual, accept partial payment of city tax bills.

Such a plan offers several advantages to those who find it a hardship to pay the complete bill before the tax deadline, as interest will be charged only on the unpaid balance and such taxpayers will escape 50 cents charge made to cover the cost of preparing and mailing delinquent tax notices at the end of the year.

The tax office, Mrs. Roeder said, will open Monday through Friday at 8 a. m., instead of 9 a. m. until the end of the year for the convenience of taxpayers who cannot make payment during regular hours.

Tax collections began to pick up yesterday after a quiet week. $373,341 Collected

Collections totaled $40,900 at 2 p. m. and were expected to reach $50,000 by closing time.

This brought collections to about $573,341, or 44 1/2 per cent of the $1,289,080 tax levy.

Mrs. Roeder said the City Collector George E. Davis hopes to have up to 85 percent of the levy collected by October 23.

Officials said they have been unable to locate the owners of several properties.

They said all real estate bills have been mailed, and that any taxpayer who has not received his bill should contact the City Collector's office at City Hall.

Drivers Urged To Comply With School Bus Stop Law

One of the elementary safety laws in Maryland and throughout the nation is that all motor vehicles must come to a complete stop at least 10 feet in front and to the rear of a stopped school bus on any state highway or county road.

J. Hubert Radcliffe, county supervisor of transportation, said yesterday that he has received a number of reports that motorists in Allegany County often are not halting in front of and in back of stopped school buses.

Insofar as possible, school bus drivers try to catch the license number of offending drivers and they are sent letters of warning. One such letter went to one of the county school teachers.

Mr. Radcliffe emphasized that there are frequent bus stops on certain well traveled roads, especially Bedford Road, National Highway and McCullen Highway. The two hours when buses are on the roads are between 8 and 9 a. m. and from 3 until 4 p. m. Drivers who disregard this school bus law are subject to a fine of $15 to $100.

Bus Passenger's Tip Causes Escapee's Arrest

Ginevan Nabbed At Leesburg, Va.

A tip off from an observant passenger in a bus led to the arrest Sunday night of an escapee from the Hampshire County jail in Romney, W. Va., who was taken into custody at Leesburg, Va.

Brother Ginevan, 27, of Pin Oak section of Hampshire County, had escaped from the jail on Sunday, October 8, in company with Calvin Largent, 19, of Paw Paw, who was recaptured at a Levels, W. Va. farm house on the following evening.

Sheriff J. M. Buckbee said last night that he and Sgt. W. C. Burke, of the West Virginia State Police went to Leesburg yesterday and after Ginevan waived extradition he was returned to the County Jail at Romney.

The sheriff said Ginevan was aboard a bus bound for Leesburg. Another passenger noticed the escapee and notified the bus driver who in turn made a regular stop and called ahead to have Virginia authorities meet the bus at Leesburg.

Ginevan was reported to have gotten out of Hampshire County by way of Blooming Hollow Road in the vicinity of Forks of Cacapon. The sheriff said he did not learn just when the escapee had boarded the bus although he was reportedly en route to Baltimore at the time he was arrested.

The sheriff said Ginevan will be held in the County Jail pending his appearance in Circuit Court at Romney on October 26 when he will be a witness in the trial of William Moreland, 21, of the Pin Oak section of the county.

Moreland will go on trial in connection with the rape of an 11-year-old girl on June 10 at a festival in Levels.

Ginevan was convicted of raping the girl that day and was sentenced to five to 20 years by Judge H. Gus Munzing.

Largent had been convicted on a forgery charge and in view of his jail break was handed a sentence of two to 10 years in the State Penitentiary at Moundsville.

Squirrel Hunter Hospitalized

A Carpenter's Addition man, who was reported accidentally shot while squirrel hunting in the Wardensville, W. Va. area yesterday morning, was admitted to Winchester (Va.) Memorial Hospital.

Gilbert Wolford, about 58, who is employed as a carman of the Western Maryland Railway Company, is reported in "favorable" condition at the hospital.

Attaches said he was wounded in the face and other parts of his body including the kidney region and in the lining of one of his lungs.

Mr. Wolford was admitted to the hospital about 9:20 a. m. yesterday. He was reported to have been on a hunting trip in the company of Steve Tallman, also of Carpenter's Addition.

The shooting was apparently at close range, according to hospital attaches, who said pellets perforated his body.

West Virginia state police were contacted last night but it was not learned who shot the man.

Calvary Baptist Church Is Site Of Ordination

Sermon Delivered By Rev. Mr. Allem

Charles E. Hault was ordained to the ministry at ceremonies in the Calvary Baptist Church of Cresaptown last week.

A member of Calvary Baptist Church, he is a graduate of the Philadelphia Bible Institute and will receive his master's degree in the field of science from the Philadelphia College of Bible at the next graduation exercises of the school.

Rev. Homer Boese, Hagerstown, was elected to preside over the Examination Council and later conducted the ordination service. Rev. William Stroup, Smethport, Pa., was elected clerk of the session.

After stating the facts concerning his conversion and call to the Gospel ministry, Mr. Hault presented a 12-page summary of his doctrinal position. The council, after examination, declared itself satisfied and recommended that the church proceed with his ordination.

Delivers Sermon

At the ordination ceremony, the Scripture was read by Rev. Edward Carter, of the Memorial Independent Baptist Church, Altoona, Pa., after which prayer was offered by Rev. George W. Hattenfield, of the Eckhart Baptist Church. The candidate then sang a dedicatory solo, "Jesus Led Me All The Way." The clerk presented the minutes of the Examination Council and announcements were made by Rev. Joseph Harshman, Pennsville, Pa.

At the request of the candidate, the pastor of the ordaining church, Rev. Harold Allem, delivered the ordination sermon at the close of which Rev. Kenneth Robb, of the First Baptist Church of Riverdale, offered the prayer of dedication as all of the pastors placed their hands upon the candidate who knelt in prayer.

Presents Certificate
The right hand of fellowship was extended by Rev. Howard Stoughton, of Townsend Avenue Baptist Church, Baltimore, at the close of which Rev. William Stroup, of the Regular Baptist Church, of Smethport, Pa., tendered the charge to the candidate.

The Certificate of Ordination was presented by Christopher Snyder, chairman of the Board of Deacons, which was followed by the introduction of the wife of newly ordained Rev. Mr. Hault. She is the former Marion Armstrong, daughter of John and Evelyn Armstrong, Triple Lakes.

During the intermission between the examination and the ordination, the Council was served dinner in the annex of the church by wives of the members of the Official Board. Tables were decorated with appropriate fall and harvest scenes. The deacons and trustees, together with their families, were also served.

Youth Jailed For 30 Days

A local youth yesterday was sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail and two other youths were given suspended terms after they pleaded guilty to petty larceny charges at a hearing in Trial Magistrate Court.

James Lynn, 19, of 477 Goethe Street, received the 30-day jail term, and his companions, Ronald Klavuhn, 23, of 701 Princeton Street, and Thomas Reed, 310 Harrison Street, were given 30-day suspended terms by Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

The three youths pleaded guilty to taking 15 gallons of gasoline valued at $5 from trucks owned by Bachman's Transfer Company.

City Police arrested Klavuhn and Reed at the scene of the theft on Miltenberger Place, and Lynn was arrested at the Cumberland Municipal Airport when police traced a telephone call made by Lynn.

Lynn also was fined $25 by Magistrate Barnett for failing to registration permit after a 30-day period.

Youth Commission Will Elect Tonight

Economic Study Of Metropolitan Government Set

Henderson, Gibson To Head Committee

Former Chief Judge George Henderson and City Comptroller Arthur B. Gibson have been asked to serve as co-chairmen of a committee appointed by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce to study the economics of a metropolitan government for this area.

The appointments were made by C. M. Sanner, Chamber president, and announced last night by Robert C. Petersen, manager, in an address before the LaVale Civic Improvement Association.

He said the results of the study "may be more important and far-reaching than we now realize" and expressed the hope that "everyone in the area will accept the findings with an open mind."

Have Common Ties

In the talk on "Cumberland and its Suburban Neighbors" he said the Chamber is an area organization and is interested in the development of the entire Tri-State area, and that "our destinies, within and without the City's boundaries, are inextricably intermeshed—and that the good of the whole will benefit each of us."

It was with this thought in mind, he said, that plans were made to sponsor the metropolitan government study.

The purpose of a Chamber of Commerce, he said, is to give people of diverse interests but with a common goal of community betterment, an organization in which they can unite to determine what needs to be done.

Once the needs are determined, he said, it is the Chamber's purpose to see that they are fulfilled by whoever is responsible.

City dwellers and suburbanites here have many things in common, he said.

Training Needed
All share common interests in jobs and payrolls, roads and transportation, schools, hospitals, utilities and professional and other service groups.

Most differences, he said, result from differences in "the relative age of our development stages."

In a brief discussion on industrial development, he said one of the chief problems is supplying adequately trained labor.

He said the area can lessen the problem by upgrading, through training, "our labor force to compete in today's market."

Cattle Breeders Institute Planned Later This Year

Dr. W. E. Peterson, internationally known professor of dairy husbandry from the University of Minnesota will head the program of the second Maryland Dairy Cattle Breeders Institute.

Lepley Gets Seven Years For Assault

Jury Convicts Local Man After Brief Deliberation

Eugene S. Lepley, 40-year-old local man, yesterday afternoon was sentenced to seven years in the Maryland Penitentiary after being found guilty of assault and battery in the June 15 shooting of Harry M. Smith, 28, Cash Valley Road, outside the Homewood Tavern on Mt. Savage Road.

Sentence was announced by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris minutes after the petit jury returned its verdict after deliberating only 20 minutes following the all-day trial in Allegany County Circuit Court. The jury found Lepley not guilty of the more serious count of assault with intent to kill. Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey, who sat with Judge Harris, concurred in the sentence.

In imposing the stiff sentence upon Lepley, the judges were influenced by his long criminal record. He was paroled from the Maryland Penitentiary only in April after having served more than seven years of a 10 year sentence on a charge of assault with intent to rob an Ellerslie man on November 30, 1953. He was tried in February 1954.

After the sentence was passed Lepley was handcuffed and returned to the county jail by Deputy Sheriff George Staup.

Hears Report

Before passing sentence, the judges heard a report of Lepley's past criminal record given by State's Attorney James S. Getty, who along with Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, presented the state's case.

George R. Hughes Jr., who represented the defendant, entered a plea of not guilty to assault with intent to kill at the outset of the trial yesterday morning.

The state completed its case at 2:15 p.m. yesterday after five witnesses, including two state policemen, testified.

The first witness to take the stand yesterday afternoon was Charles M. Reckley, owner of the building where the tavern is located. He said he was in his apartment above the tavern when the disturbance began although he said he heard no shot.

Reckley said he went outside after hearing a commotion and told the group to "break it up" and the first thing he knew there was a "gun in my stomach." When asked who was wielding the gun, Reckley answered "Lepley, I suppose." He said he was able to identify two of the men, and went back into the apartment.

Shoves Gun
Francis Haselberger, 21, of Locust Grove, who was present at the commotion, testified that Lepley shoved the gun in Reckley's stomach.

Reckley's wife testified that she was collecting tickets to a dance at the tavern on the night of the shooting and the defendant had come to the door on three occasions that evening in search of Smith.

The third time he came to the door, about 11:30 p.m., Smith was at the tavern, according to Mrs. Reckley who said they both left the tavern. She said Smith had his arm around Lepley's neck and they were laughing and apparently not angry at one another.

Lepley was charged with firing a .22 calibre semi-automatic rifle during an ensuing altercation with the bullet penetrating both thighs of Smith.

Stopped In Narrows

Tfc. Milton G. Hart, criminal investigator of the State Police, related that he took Lepley into custody the night of the shooting. He recounted how Lepley, Robert W. Eversole, 20, of 118 Valley Street and Richard M. Welsh, 32, of RD 1, Bedford, were arrested on U.S. Route 40 in the Narrows at a roadblock set up by State Police.

Trooper Hart said he noticed a .22 calibre rifle and some shells in the car. He ejected a spent shell from the rifle and found other shells in the magazine of the gun.

A statement taken from Lepley at state police barracks about eight hours after his arrest was read in court and entered as Exhibit No. 1 by the state's attorney. The gun and a shell were entered as Exhibits No. 2 and 3 respectively.

The final witness for the state

City Tax Office Is Preparing For Busy Week

Interest To Begin After Next Monday

The City Tax Office is preparing for a busy week as the deadline for payment of taxes at par approaches.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said city taxes can be paid interest free until the close of business next Monday, October 23. Mailed payments postmarked until midnight will be accepted at par.

Beginning October 24, interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month and dating back to the setting of the levy on August 21, will be charged.

Payments Accepted

The Finance Department will, as usual, accept partial payment of city tax bills.

Such a plan offers several advantages to those who find it a hardship to pay the complete bill before the tax deadline, as interest will be charged only on the unpaid balance and such taxpayers will escape 50 cents charge made to cover the cost of preparing and mailing delinquent tax notices at the end of the year.

The tax office, Mrs. Roeder said, will open Monday through Friday at 8 a.m., instead of 9 a.m. until the end of the year for the convenience of taxpayers who cannot make payment during regular hours.

Tax collections began to pick up yesterday after a quiet week.

$573,341 Collected
Collections totaled $40,900 at 2 p.m. and were expected to reach $50,000 by closing time.

This brought collections to about $573,341, or 44 1/2 per cent of the $1,289,080 tax levy.

Mrs. Roeder said the City Collector George E. Davis hopes to have up to 85 percent of the levy collected by October 23.

Officials said they have been unable to locate the owners of several properties.

They said all real estate bills have been mailed, and that any taxpayer who has not received his bill should contact the City Collector's office at City Hall.

Drivers Urged To Comply With School Bus Stop Law

One of the elementary safety laws in Maryland and throughout the nation is that all motor vehicles must come to a complete stop at least 10 feet in front and to the rear of a stopped school bus on any state highway or county road.

J. Hubert Radcliffe, county supervisor of transportation, said yesterday that he has received a number of reports that motorists in Allegany County often are not halting in front of and in back of stopped school buses.

Insofar as possible, school bus drivers try to catch the license number of offending drivers and they are sent letters of warning. One such letter went to one of the county school teachers.

Mr. Radcliffe emphasized that there are frequent bus stops on certain well traveled roads, especially Bedford Road, National Highway and McMullen Highway. The two hours when buses are on the roads are between 8 and 9 a.m. and from 3 until 4 p.m.

Drivers who disregard this school bus law are subject to a fine of $15 to $100.

Bus Passenger's Tip Causes Escapee's Arrest

Ginevan Nabbed At Leesburg, Va.

A tip off from an observant passenger in a bus led to the arrest Sunday night of an escapee from the Hampshire County jail in Romney, W. Va., who was taken into custody at Leesburg, Va.

Brother Ginevan, 27, of Pin Oak section of Hampshire County, had escaped from the jail on Sunday, October 8, in company with Calvin Largent, 19, of Paw Paw, who was recaptured at a Levels, W. Va. farm house on the following evening.

Sheriff J. M. Buckbee said last night that he and Sgt. W. C. Burke, of the West Virginia State Police went to Leesburg yesterday and after Ginevan waived extradition he was returned to the County Jail at Romney.

The sheriff said Ginevan was aboard a bus bound for Leesburg. Another passenger noticed the escapee and notified the bus driver who in turn made a regular stop and called ahead to have Virginia authorities meet the bus at Leesburg.

Ginevan was reported to have gotten out of Hampshire County by way of Blooming Hollow Road in the vicinity of Forks of Cacapon. The sheriff said he did not learn just when the escapee had boarded the bus although he was reportedly en route to Baltimore at the time he was arrested.

The sheriff said Ginevan will be held in the County Jail pending his appearance in Circuit Court at Romney on October 26 when he will be a witness in the trial of William Moreland, 21, of the Pin Oak section of the county.

Moreland will go on trial in connection with the rape of an 11-year-old girl on June 10 at a festival in Levels.

Ginevan was convicted of raping the girl that day and was sentenced to five to 20 years by Judge H. Gus Munzing.

Largent had been convicted on a forgery charge and in view of his jail break was handed a sentence of two to 10 years in the State Penitentiary at Moundsville.

Attaches said he was wounded in the face and other parts of his body including the kidney region and in the lining of one of his lungs.

Mr. Wolford was admitted to the hospital about 9:20 a.m. yesterday. He was reported to have been on a hunting trip in the company of Steve Tallman, also of Carpenter's Addition.

The shooting was apparently at close range, according to hospital attaches, who said pellets perforated his body.

West Virginia state police were contacted last night but it was not learned who shot the man.

CHARLES E. HAULT

Calvary Baptist Church Is Site Of Ordination

Sermon Delivered By Rev. Mr. Allem

Charles E. Hault was ordained to the ministry at ceremonies in the Calvary Baptist Church of Cresaptown last week.

A member of Calvary Baptist Church, he is a graduate of the Philadelphia Bible Institute and will receive his master's degree in the field of science from the Philadelphia College of Bible at the next graduation exercises of the school.

Rev. Homer Boese, Hagerstown, was elected to preside over the Examination Council and later conducted the ordination service. Rev. William Stroup, Smethport, Pa., was elected clerk of the session.

After stating the facts concerning his conversion and call to the Gospel ministry, Mr. Hault presented a 12-page summary of his doctrinal position. The council, after examination, declared itself satisfied and recommended that the church proceed with his ordination.

Delivers Sermon

At the ordination ceremony, the Scripture was read by Rev. Edward Carter, of the Memorial Independent Baptist Church, Altoona, Pa., after which prayer was offered by Rev. George W. Hattenfield, of the Eckhart Baptist Church. The candidate then sang a dedicatory solo, "Jesus Led Me All The Way." The clerk presented the minutes of the Examination Council and announcements were made by Rev. Joseph Harshman, Pennsville, Pa.

At the request of the candidate, the pastor of the ordaining church, Rev. Harold Allem, delivered the ordination sermon at the close of which Rev. Kenneth Robb, of the First Baptist Church of Riverdale, offered the prayer of dedication as all of the pastors placed their hands upon the candidate who knelt in prayer.

Presents Certificate

The right hand of fellowship was extended by Rev. Harold Stoughton, of Townsend Avenue Baptist Church, Baltimore, at the close of which Rev. William Stroup, of the Regular Baptist Church, of Smethport, Pa., tendered the charge to the candidate.

The Certificate of Ordination was presented by Christopher Snyder, chairman of the Board of Deacons, which was followed by the introduction of the wife of newly ordained Rev. Mr. Hault. She is the former Marion Armstrong, daughter of John and Evelyn Armstrong, Triple Lakes.

During the intermission between the examination and the ordination, the Council was served dinner in the annex of the church by wives of the members of the Official Board. Tables were decorated with appropriate fall and harvest scenes. The deacons and trustees, together with their families, were also served.

Youth Jailed For 30 Days

The three youths pleaded guilty to taking 15 gallons of gasoline valued at $5 from trucks owned by Bachman's Transfer Company. City Police arrested Klavuhn and Reed at the scene of the theft on Miltenberger Place, and Lynn was arrested at the Cumberland Municipal Airport when police traced a telephone call made by Lynn.

Economic Study Of Metropolitan Government Set

Henderson, Gibson To Head Committee

Former Chief Judge George Henderson and City Comptroller Arthur B. Gibson have been asked to serve as co-chairmen of a committee appointed by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce to study the economics of a metropolitan government for this area.

The appointments were made by C. M. Sanner, Chamber president, and announced last night by Robert C. Petersen, manager, in an address before the LaVale Civic Improvement Association.

He said the results of the study "may be more important and far-reaching than we now realize" and expressed the hope that "everyone in the area will accept the findings with an open mind."

Have Common Ties

In the talk on "Cumberland and its Suburban Neighbors" he said the Chamber is an area organization and is interested in the development of the entire Tri-State area, and that "our destinies, within and without the City's boundaries, are inextricably intermeshed—and that the good of the whole will benefit each of us."

It was with this thought in mind, he said, that plans were made to sponsor the metropolitan government study.

The purpose of a Chamber of Commerce, he said, is to give people of diverse interests but with a common goal of community betterment, an organization in which they can unite to determine what needs to be done.

Once the needs are determined, he said, it is the Chamber's purpose to see that they are fulfilled by whoever is responsible.

City dwellers and suburbanites

here have many things in common, he said.

Training Needed

All share common interests in jobs and payrolls, roads and transportation, schools, hospitals, utilities and professional and other service groups.

Most differences, he said, result from differences in "the relative age of our development stages."

In a brief discussion on industrial development, he said one of the chief problems is supplying adequately trained labor.

He said the area can lessen the problem by upgrading, through training, "our labor force to compete in today's market."
